RUSSIA HAVING DISPOSED OF GERMANS TURNS HER ATTENTION NOW TO THE AUSTRIAN FORCES

According to Telegram From Grand Duke Nicholas, Russians Have Won a Victory More Important Than Any Previous One—In Struggle Between Germans and Allies in West, There Again Has Been Little Change—Germans Claim Successes.

REPORTS COME FROM DUTCH FRONTIER THAT GERMANS ARE PREPARING TO RETIRE

But Military Observers in London Believe They Have not Yet Despaired of Breaking Through Allies' Front—Interest Now Centers in Possibilities of the Balkan States Becoming Involved in the War—Mostly Silence From the Near East.

London, Nov. 6.—The Russians report that, having driven the Germans back to their border in the north and forced their center to retire from Vistula to the Warthe river, the Russian general staff has turned its attention to the Austrians who have held their positions stubbornly along the San river in Galicia.

According to a telegram from Grand Duke Nicholas the Russians have won a victory more important than any previous one. The Russians say they again have occupied Jaroslau, north of Przemysl, capturing 5,000 prisoners. It is believed here, however, that there will be another big battle on the Warthe before the armies of Emperor Nicholas seriously threaten Silesia.

In the struggle between the Germans and the Allies in the West, there again has been little if any change. The Germans, twice balked in their attempt to reach the French coast, are preparing for another attack which, like the last, is directed at the line held by the British on both sides of the town of Ypres, where for a fortnight some of the most sanguinary fighting of the war has been in progress, and where casualties on both sides probably have been larger than those on such a restricted front in any previous battle.

A Berlin official report claims the Germans have made progress here, but this is directly contradicted by claims of the Allies, who say they are holding all their positions and have made some advances.

Reports come from the Dutch frontier that the Germans are preparing for retirement, but military observers here say that the bringing up of reinforcements prove they have not yet despaired of breaking through the Allies' front and re-taking either Calais or Boulogne.

Elsewhere along the great front there has been a repetition of severe encounters.

The British fleet, according to unofficial accounts, again has been in action along the Belgian coast, bombarding Knocke and Zeebrugge, where the Germans are understood to be organizing submarine bases.

Except for the Russian announcement of the invasion of Turkish territory from the Caucuses, silence prevails as to operations in the Near East.

For the present interest is centered in the possibilities of the Balkan states becoming involved in the war. It is declared Greece has annexed Epirus, denied her by the London conference after the first Balkan war.

It is said also on good authority that negotiations are proceeding for an agreement by which Bulgaria will receive Macedonia, which is largely Bulgarian, if she will consent to actively support the Allies. Servia, which won Macedonia by the sword, hesitates, it is said, to give it up; but it is thought here she can hardly turn a deaf ear to Russia, who entered the war on her account. Further, it is said, she would receive compensation in Bosnia through which she would get a route to the sea.

GERMANS CLAIM SUCCESS.

Berlin Official Statement of the Situation in West.

London, Nov. 6.—The Marconi Wireless Company has received the following official statement issued by the German headquarters today.

"Our offensive to the northwest and southwest of Ypres has made good progress.

"At LaBassee to the north of Arras and in the Argonne region we have gained ground.

"Our troops captured important positions southeast of St. Mihiel and have inflicted heavy losses on the French.

"Nothing of note has happened in the eastern theatre of war."

ANOTHER ENGAGEMENT.

Off Western Coast of South America. Warships of Three Nations.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—A report that an engagement between British, German and Japanese warships is in progress off the western coast of South America was received here today from the South American correspondent of a prominent British shipping agency. No details were given.

The message was in code and a mistake in translation at first located the battle off Yauyos, Peru. Yauyos, however, is an inland town. After a retranslation, the agency said they believed some part of the Chilean coast was referred to.

REPORT IS CONFIRMED

That France Has Announced a State of War With Turkey.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Official dispatches from the French foreign office to the embassy here today confirmed the report that France had announced a state of war with Turkey.

The text follows:

"The hostile acts delivered by the Turkish fleet commandered by German officers against a French merchant vessel, which resulted in the death of two Frenchmen and serious damage to the boats, not having been followed by the return of the German military and naval commissions, measures by which Turkey could have cleared herself of responsibility, the government of the republic is obliged to consider by this act of the Ottoman government that a state of war exists between France and Turkey. In consequence the French ambassador at Constantinople and the personnel of the embassy there have left, as well as the consuls of the Ottoman empire, who left Bordeaux yesterday."

SYRIA BEING RAIDED

Turkey Taking Merchandise of Every Conceivable Form.

New York, Nov. 6.—Merchandise of every conceivable form is being seized by Turkey in Syria under the mobilization reports made public today by the Presbyterian board of foreign missions.

At present there are in Syria 39 Presbyterian missionaries of whom 24 are women. Fifteen are at Beirut, 12 at Tripoli, nine at Sudan and three at Lebanon.

NEARLY HALF MILLION

Prisoners Held by Germany According to the Latter's Claims.

London, Nov. 6.—A Reuter's dispatch from Amsterdam says advices from Berlin assert that up to last Sunday the German conservation camps and hospitals held the following prisoners: French, 3,138 officers and 188,618 men; Russians, 8,121 officers and 186,779 men; Belgians, 537 officers and 34,907 men; British, 417 officers and 15,700 men.

The correspondent adds that the Berlin dispatch says these figures do not include prisoners not encamped.

GERMAN STEAMER BLOWN UP

By Mines Laid by the Germans in the "Great Belt."

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—A big German steamer has been blown up south of Langeland, in the great belt, by a mine said to have been placed by the Germans.—A number of her crew were lost.

In the past fortnight two German trawlers and one German steamer have been destroyed in this region. There are no Danish mines in thes waters as they were gathered up some time ago.

ANOTHER NAVAL ENGAGEMENT ON?

Between British, German and Japanese Warships.

OFF THE CHILEAN COAST

According to Report Received at San Francisco—Cruiser Good Hope Took Fire and Foundered. Details of Fight.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—A report that an engagement between British, German and Japanese warships is in progress off the western coast of South America was received here today from the South American correspondent of a prominent British shipping agency. No details were given.

The message was in code and a mistake in translation at first located the battle off Yauyos, Peru. Yauyos, however, is an inland town. After a retranslation, the agency said they believed some part of the Chilean coast was referred to.

London, Nov. 6.—It was the British cruiser Good Hope, Rear Admiral Cradock's flagship, that foundered after being set on fire by shells from the German warships in the naval battle off the Chilean coast last Sunday. The British cruiser Monmouth, which the Germans said they had sunk, was badly damaged and it is possible she is the warship reported ashore today on the coast of Chile. So far as is known none of the Good Hope's crew survived.

This was the news given out tonight by the admiralty just as the British public was beginning to think German accounts of the battle were exaggerated. The only bit of satisfaction for the British is that their little Pacific fleet chose to give battle to a very much stronger squadron and was not overwhelmed until the last possible shot had been fired.

The British cruiser Glasgow, which was with the Good Hope and Monmouth, also put up a fight against the two German cruisers Leipsig and Dresden, and when her bigger sisters were put out of action managed to escape.

Rear Admiral Cradock lived up to his reputation as a follower of that naval school which believes the enemy should be engaged no matter what his superiority. According to the admiralty it was he who brought about the action, for the German squadron at first was disinclined to give battle. It was only when dusk came on and the light was in their favor that the Germans engaged the British.

The battleship Canopus, sent to reinforce Rear Admiral Cradock did not arrive in time to place the advantage on the British side, and the British transport Otranto was of no value in the field against armored ships.

The statement says: "The admiralty now has received trustworthy information about the action on the Chilean coast.

"During Sunday, the first of November, the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow came up with the Scharnhorst, Gneister, Leipzig and Dresden. Both squadrons were steaming south in a strong wind and considerable sea.

"The German squadron declined action until sunset, when the light gave it an important advantage. The action lasted an hour.

"Early in the action both the Good Hope and Monmouth took fire but fought until nearly dark, when a serious explosion occurred on the Good Hope and she foundered.

"The Monmouth hauled off at dark, taking water badly, and appeared unable to steam away. She was accompanied by the Glasgow which during the action had fought the Leipzig and Dresden.

"The enemy again approached the Monmouth and the Monmouth drew off.

"The enemy then attacked the Monmouth again, but with what result is not known. The Glasgow is not extensively damaged and has few casualties.

"Neither the Otranto nor the Canopus was engaged. Reports received by the foreign office from Valparaiso state that a belligerent warship is ashore on the Chilean coast and it is possible that this may prove to be the Monmouth. Energetic measures are being taken on this assumption to rescue the survivors.

"The action appears to the admiralty to have been most gallantly contested, but in the absence of the Canopus the enemy's preponderance in force was considerable."

Glasgow Injured Prior to Fight.

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 6.—A message today from Corinel indicated that the British cruiser Glasgow was injured by a German warship prior to the fight last Sunday evening in which the British cruisers Monmouth and Good Hope were lost n ndthe Glasgow and the transport Otranto damaged. The Glasgow, according to this message, entered Corinel Saturday and made repairs of injuries caused by shells. One of her four smoke stacks was destroyed, there was a big hole in one of her sides and her bulwarks were smashed. The cruiser left Corinel Sunday.

South Hadley, Mass., Nov. 6.—An increase in the army and navy was strongly advocated today by former President Taft, who spoke at Founders' Day exercises at Mount Holyoke college. He urged also the need of more highly trained officers.

GERMANY GETTING AMERICAN COPPER

Large Shipments Are Passing Through Italian Ports.

GREAT BRITAIN ACTIVE

Government Determined to Use Every Legitimate Means to Prevent Shipments Reaching Germany—Sends Cruisers.

London, Nov. 6.—Information in the possession of the British government, it is said, proves conclusively that large shipments of copper, rubber and other commodities are passing through Italian ports on their way to Germany.

In New York big purchases of copper are being made by representatives of houses in Rotterdam, Amsterdam and Copenhagen, who, it is said, are working on German account. Directions at the same time are given that these consignments are to be shipped through Italian ports to the order of various financial interests said to be controlled largely by German capital. American copper refiners are insisting on payment in cash before they allow the copper to be shipped.

The British government is determined to use every legitimate means to prevent copper reaching Germany, where it is being made into ammunition for use against the British forces. Great Britain, therefore, is diverting various steamers carrying copper to Italy to Gibraltar, where the copper is discharged. The steamers are promptly released. Some of the copper is in shipments made on orders through Getman houses in Amsterdam and Rotterdam, who are said to be connected with the Krupps.

It is understood that representatives of some big copper refining firms recently sailed from New York for Europe to consult agents of German firms as to the best means of forwarding copper to Germany. Italian firms also have been approached by German purchasers of copper with a view of arranging for the use of the names of the former for the purpose of concealing the fact that American copper shipped to the purchasers is destined for Germany.

Since October 25, vessels from New York for Italy, having on board a total of 7,700 tons of copper, have been diverted to Gibraltar and the British government is informed that some several thousand tons are now en route to Italy. The larger part of these copper shipments are for Genoa. Official returns, it is said, show the present trade in copper with Italy is entirely artificial and that Italian imports are not for consumption in that country.

In view of all this accumulative evidence the British government maintains there is no alternative but to stop this alleged contraband trade.

CECILIE NOW SAFE IN THE PORT OF BOSTON

Transferred Under Protection of U. S. Torpedo Boats

North German Lloyd Liner Transferred From Bar Harbor Without Unusual Incident—Captain Was Fearful.

Boston, Nov. 6.—Under protection of two United States torpedo boat destroyers, the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Ceolie steamed into port here late today after 13 hours' run from Bar Harbor, Maine.

The transfer of the ship, interned at the Maine port for three months as a result of the war, was accomplished without unusual incident. Her captain, Franklin, concerned over the possibility of molestation by a hostile ship, paced the bridge during the entire voyage.

Most of the voyage was made within the three mile limit, but on several stretches the big liner was more than ten miles off shore. The destroyer Terwhile the Lamson held to a courseiry was close alongside throughout, while the Lamson held to a course about ten miles out to watch for any possible danger.

Aboard the steamer Lieutenant W. K. Kilpatrick, U. S. N., assisted Captain Polack in the navigation of the vessel and supervised the operation of the steamer's wireless apparatus unsealed for the first time in many weeks. Almost at the time that the United States marshal for Maine turned the custody of the vessel over to Deputy Morse of Massachusetts an agreement was arranged in Federal court postponing a hearing on the principal suit against the steamship company until November 20. It had been set for today. The suit was brought by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York for damages alleged to have resulted from the failure of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie to deliver in Europe a consignment of $11,000,000 gold.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The steamer Potsdam, sailing from New York Tuesday, will carry a large shipment of Red Cross hospital supplies to Germany. One-third of the shipment will be forwarded to the American Red Cross at Munich, and the remainder will go to the German Red Cross.

TWO MORE STATES UNDER QUARANTINE

Caused by Further Spread of Foot and Mouth Disease

NINE STATES COVERED

Suspected Case Also in Mississippi. Increased Cost of Putting Down the Disease Now Certain. States Advised.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Further spread of the foot and mouth disease caused the extension of the Federal quarantine today to two more states, Massachusetts and Iowa. Cattle, sheep and hogs now cannot be moved out of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, Massachusetts or Iowa.

In addition to the states already quarantined, a suspected case exists at Como, Miss., where it is reported a herd owner himself has contracted the disease. The Federal authorities are advising state officials to impose a stringent quarantine against infected farms and even to prevent children leaving the farms to attend school. New cases were also found in Pennsylvania and Illinois.

The spread of the disease makes certain an increased cost of putting down the spidemic. It would not surprise officials if the cost would be nearer the $2,000,000 expended by the German government to eradicate the disease from its cattle a few years ago than the $300,000 spent in fighting the 1908 outbreak. The expense of having inspectors trace the various shipments from infected centers will be large. Ten new inspectors were rushed today to Wisconsin, Iowa and Massachusetts.

Department officials have suggested to promoters of the Royal Cattle Show to be held in Kansas City this fall that the event should be postponed.

SHIPPED FROM CHICAGO.

Large Part of Cattle Receiving and Meat Packing Industry.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—A large part of the cattle receiving and meat packing industry of the country, long centered in Chicago, tonight temporarily was shifted to Kansas City, Omaha, and other western cities. The Chicago Union Stock Yards, for the first time since its organization in 1865, was closed down for nine days because of hoof and mouth disease among cattle.

The quarantine against all cattle went into effect at midnight. The state's action supplements the Federal quarnatine against Illinois. No more cattle, sheep or hogs are to be received in Chicago until November 16, when business is to be resumed after the yards have been thoroughly disinfected.

The packers tonight sent to western branches 1,000 butchers to dress animals, which ordinarily would have been sent to Chicago. They declared the products from their western plants would be sufficient to supply the market without advance in prices.

The herd of 600 infected cattle was augmented by 218 more cattle and 600 hogs. No sheep so far have been affected.

NO RAISE IN MEAT PRICES.

To Result From Closing of Chicago Stock Yards.

New York, Nov. 6.—Dealers at the open markets recently established by the city assured Borough President Marks of Manhattan, today that the live stock quarantine in various parts of the country would not cause a rise in the prices of meat here.

Mr. Marks was informed that retailers generally have declared a two cent increase, effective next week.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 6.—The foot and mouth disease has been discovered in Montana.

Serious in New York.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The foot and mouth disease situation in New York state is of the utmost seriousness, according to a statement issued tonight by the state agricultural department, based on reports from officials in the field. It is possible, the statement says, that quarantines will have to be placed against so many counties that the movement of cattle, even for short distances will be seriously interfered with.

N.C. BANKERS COMMITTEE ENDORSES WADE PLAN

At Meeting Held in Raleigh Yesterday. Committee Named.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—The special committee appointed by the North Carolina Bankers' Association to pass upon the St. Louis-Wade cotton loan plan met here today and expressed its hearty approval of the plan and its gratification that it has been placed under the control of members of the Federal Reserve Board.

A committee of seven was appointed as the State committee to secure the North Carolina subscriptions to the loan fund.

EXPRESS MESSENGER CONFESSES

That He Aided and Abetted in Robbery of His Own Train.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 6.—William Ahring, express messenger on the Rock Island-Hot Springs train, held up April 9 and robbed of $1,200 today confessed in federal court to planning the robbery with W. W. Dunn, once a Rock Island conductor, and another man.

Ahring declared that one of the men boarded the train at Hot Springs and with Ahring's permission bound and gagged him and locked him in a trunk. Ahring said he met Dunn and the other man in Little Rock and divided the spoils and that he received $500.

GERMAN FORTRESS AT TSING TAU IN CHINA SURRENDERED TODAY

LESSONS FROM THE PAN-EUROPEAN WAR

To be Laid Before Congress by Daniels and Garrison.

IN ANNUAL REPORTS

Methods of Obtaining Mobile and Adequate Army and Powerful and Efficient Fleet to be Discussed in Great Detail.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Secretaries Garrison and Daniels, in their forthcoming annual reports, will lay before Congress the lessons they believe the American army and navy should draw from the war in Europe. No extraordinary expenditures will be asked, but methods of obtaining a mobile and adequate army and a powerful and efficient fleet will be discussed in great detail.

Secretary Garrison will emphasize the necessity for a definite permanent military policy. Secretary Daniels will recommend two battleships but probably will ask for authority to expend a lump sum for submarines.

The work of submarines in the European war has recalled that the last Congress appropriated more than $4,000,000 for submarines and specified that one should be a sea-going vessel, practically twice the size of those used in coast patrol. Such a submarine, according to naval officers, will be the most powerful in the world, able to accompany the fleet everywhere. European submarines have been able to make only comparatively short voyages from their bases.

There is every likelihood that Secretary Daniels will ask for a second submarine of the sea-going type and the usual number—seven or eight—smaller submarines for coast and harbor defense. While submarines have attracted most attention, naval strategists do not believe there should be any change in the permanent plans of the general board for two battleships a year and a proportionate number of auxiliaries and submarines.

More Than Germany and Japan.

The United States already has more submarines than Germany and Japan, and Mr. Daniels and the general board believe in the battleship unit as the necessary line along which the navy should advance. Naval men concede, however, that Congress will consider using the appropriation ordinarily made for one battleship for building of 28 new submarines.

One of the chief recommendations the navy will make will be an increase in personnel. It is estimated 18,000 more men are needed. More torpedoes also will be asked for.

The army will appeal for more ammunition. The shortage in shells and other munitions has been emphasized for many years without congressional action. More field artillery and 16-inch coast defense guns also will be urgently requested.

What Secretary Garrison will seek chiefly, however, is a definite settlement by Congress of the much debated problem of an adequate regular army. It is understood he will reiterate in greater detail and with more emphasis this view, expressed in his last report:

"For some years the army war college section of the general staff and officers generally throughout the service have been working with great earnestness, intelligence and enthusiasm for the establishment of a definite national military policy, the spread of military knowledge among the people, and the creation of a military reserve force to the end that there shall be in all the walks of civil life an increasingly large number of men with a sufficient military training to make them better prepared for the service of their country. The purpose and effect of this have not been to invite war or to encourage it but to postpone it.

"As a peaceful and unmilitary people, we are dimly impressed with the fact that just as agriculture and commerce are the foundations of our great national prosperity, so are our military and naval forces its bulwark and defense."

Details of the general staff's plans for a reserve army are expected to be revealed by Mr. Garrison.

TRUNK LINE RAILWAYS TO RE-ESTABLISH ALLOWANCES

To Divide With U. S. Steel Corporation Railway Lines—Says Commission.

Washington, Nov. 6.—In a supplemental decision today in the industrial railways case, the Interstate Commerce Commission directed trunk line railways to re-establish allowances or divisions with United States Steel Corporation railway lines which are concededly common carriers. Tens of thousands of dollars annually will accrue to the industrial lines through the decision.

The commission modified its original findings on account of the decision of the Supreme Court in the tap line cases.

"We have concluded," the commission says, "that it is our duty to refrain from issuing an order and to avoid the delay which would be attendant upon litigation."

Chairman Harlan, who prepared the original decision in the industrial railways case, dissented from the findings of Commissioner Clark and the majority in today's decision.

Ends Most Picturesque of Minor Phases of the Great World War.

FIRST STEP AT MIDNIGHT

When Infantry Charged and Occupied Middle Fort.

REPORT IS FROM TOKIO

Loses to Germany Last Foot of Possessions on Asiatic Mainland and Last Strategic Position Outside in Europe.

Tokyo, Nov. 7 (1:25 a. m.)—It is officially announced that the German fortress at Tsing Tau has surrendered to the Japanese and British forces.

It is officially announced that the first step in bringing about the surrender of the fort occurred at midnight when the infantry charged and occupied the middle fort of the line of defense. In this operation they took 200 prisoners.

The fall of Tsing Tau ends the most picturesque of the minor phases of the great world war now raging.

On two continents and in many islands of the seas where colonies of the warring nations were planted, combats of more or less interest have taken place, garrisons have been completed and towns occupied peacefully; but in the little German concession on the south side of the Shan Tong peninsula of China there has been going on since late in August a reduced scale of war that from all accounts has duplicated nearly all features of those battles in Europe that have resulted in the capture of fortified positions.

What It Means.

The surrender of Tsing Tau loses to Germany her last foot of possessions on the Asiatic mainland as well as her last strategic position outside of the German empire in Europe. For nearly three months the little German garrison of about 7,000 men has held out against the land and sea attacks of the Japanese, of certain British detachments of both white and Indian troops that found themselves in China at the outbreak of the war. What the losses of the Garrison have been are not known, but the official Japanese and British reports have indicated that Tsing Tau has been taken at heavy cost of men on the part of the allies.

It was on August 15 that Japan threw herself into the European war as Great Britain's ally, after demanding that Germany withdraw or intern all warships in Asiatic waters and relinquish possession of Kao Chow. Japan then proceeded cautiously with plans to seize the German settlement on the Chinese mainland.

The operations have been reduced to a scale of some 600 square miles but on that account they have been none the less interesting. Aeroplanes and all other accompaniments of modern warfare have figured in the operations. The strength of the attacking force as compared with the little garrison of some 7,000 men and the few German vessels at Kao Chow was so disproportionate that at the beginning of the campaign it was taken for granted that the German possession would soon fall. The surprise was that so small a force could hold out so long.

Details of Movements Secret.

Details of the movements have been secret but the first general operation undertaken by the Japanese was the sweeping of the waters around Kiao Chow for German mines. During the mine sweeping campaign at least one Japanese mine-dragging boat was blown up.

The next general move on the part of the Japanese was to seize the German-owned railway running west from Tsing Tau into the province of Shan Tau.

This was done under protest from the Chinese government, which held that it violated the integrity of the Chinese republic.

The number of the expeditionary forces has not been officially divulged but it is said to have been upward of 30,000 men. A British detachment of some 800 South Wales borderers and 400 Indian Sikhs, under Brig. Gen. Nathanial W. Barnardiston, commander of the North China forces, is said to have formed a part of the center of the Japanese line in the investment of Tsing Tau.

Fighting continued from the middle of September until today. In one of the most severe of these engagements, on October 3, it was announced that the Japanese loss was 300 killed and 500 wounded. At various times German losses were reported up to a score or more.

On the night of October 17 the most serious of the Japanese naval losses occurred when the Cruiser Takachiho was blown up by the German torpedo boat S-90.

It was reported October 23 that the Japanese had installed their siege guns on Prince Henry Mountain and other hills near the town.

Description of Fortress.

The German fortresses include three lines of defense. The Germans had five forts exclusively for more defense.

The heights back of the city are penetrated only by the railway line and it was probably through this path that the allies proceeded into Tsing Tau, once defending fortresses had been silenced.

An interesting document in connection with the fall of Tsing Tau is the

LANCASHIRE SPINNERS ARE MUCH GRATIFIED

At First Day's Business of the Liverpool Market.

China Has Placed Orders in Lancashire—Many Spinners Give Paish Credit for Improvement.

Manchester, Via London, Nov. 6.—Lancashire spinners are gratified at the first day's business of the Liverpool cotton market since the war began. Trading was hedged about by many restrictions but spinners believe the Liverpool cotton association will remove all impediments to general trading as soon as the New York exchange opens. President Roxburg, of the Liverpool Association, believes this will be November 16th.

China has placed large orders in Lancashire.

Many spinners express the opinion that the improvement in the cotton situation is largely due to Sir George Paish's efforts in the United States. While the Liverpool market was closed the Lancashire spinners had little trouble in buying spot cotton, but the opening of the Chinese trade makes it imperative that futures be bought to cover orders booked.

The Liverpool Spinners' Association has fixed 8.12d a pound as the minimum price to protect the trade against loading up at a ruinously low price on the six million bales of American cotton raised this year in excess of estimated demands.

FORTRESS AT TSING TAU HAS SURRENDERED

proclamation which the German government posted on August 22 in this it was said:

"Never shall we surrender the smallest bit of ground over which the German flag is flying. From this place, where we with love and success have endeavored the last 17 years to shape a little Germany across the seas we shall not retreat. If the neemy wants Tsing Tau he must come and take it."

In taking it the Japanese again have had revenge for certain phases of their war with China 20 years ago. Victorious, Japan was forced, at the instigation of Germany, to give up Port Arthur, her main fruit of victory, which eventually became Russian.

Ten years later—in 1904-05—Japan fought Russia again and took Port Arthur. Now, after another interval of ten years, in association with British forces, Japan has seized the German possession of Kiao Chow which has been a thorn in Japan's side for two decades.

U. S. TROOPS OCCUPY VILLAGE OF PRAIRIE CREEK

Attracted No Attention—Two Large Stores Burned Yesterday.

Ft. Smith, Ark., Nov. 6.—United States troops tonight occupied the village of Prairie Creek, in the Hartford Valley coal mining region, without attracting more attention than if on parade.

The burning of two large stores at Hartford, three miles from Prairie Creek, early today, alleged to have been done by sympathizers of striking miners, was the final act prior to the arrival of the troops. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

At Ft. Smith little excitement attended the sitting of the United States Court when Judge Frank Youmans delivered the charge to the special grand jury, called to investigate recent disorders in the Hartford Valley. R. B. Hull, special assistant to the attorney general, said tonight that no indictments would be returned until some time next week. Tomorrow the jury will adjourn for a week.

The miners and residents of Hartford Valley insist there is no strike in that territory. It is the general opinion throughout this section that there will not be a clash of any kind between the miners and soldiers unless non-union men are brought in to operate mine No. 4.

Instead of the 500 or 600 miners who worked at the Prairie Creek mine a year ago there now are scarcely a hundred. All the mining properties being closed.

MOST POWERFUL NAVAL GUN EVER DESIGNED.

Sixteen-Inch Gun Just Completed for United States Navy.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The largest and most powerful naval gun ever designed has just been completed for the United States Navy. It is a 16-inch rifle and was secretly constructed at the Washington navy yard. Its existence became known today when tests were begun at the Indian Head proving grounds on the Potomac below this city.

If the new weapon proves the success its initial trials promise, the type probably will be adopted for the main battery of three dreadnoughts authorized at the last session of Congress. These vessels will be larger by several thousand tons than any ship now afloat, and experts declare they easily can carry the heavier guns.

The largest weapons now used in the American navy are the 14-inch guns carried by the dreadnoughts of the Pennsylvania, Nevada and New York class. The newest battleships of the British navy carry eight 15-inch rifles.

It is claimed the 16-inch gun will have a range of 15 miles, and at least twice the penetrating power of the famous German howitzers which have played such havoc with modern fortifications in Belgium and France.

ASSURANCE AS TO TOBACCO

Is Sought of Great Britain by State Department—Seizure is Question.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Although tobacco is not included by Great Britain either in the list of contraband or of conditional contraband articles, the government of that country will be asked by the State department to give assurance that tobacco captured in neutral bottoms will not be seized. This action is said to be the result of complaint from Kentucky tobacco interests who claim they are finding difficulty insecuring foreign orders for their crop because of the uncertainty that exists asto its safety in transit.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 6.—Secretary Wm. J. Bryan left tonight for Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan. Mr. Bryan said he did not care to discuss the election until he had more definite information on the vote on senators in Wisconsin and Nevada.

BAZAAR SPLENDID SUCCESS

Brilliant Three-Day Event for Relief of European Sufferers Closed Last Night.

The bazaar at the Germania Club, conducted under the auspices of the ladies of the German-American Aid Society, for the relief of sufferers in Germany on account of the European war, closed last night after having been in progress for three days. Large crowds attended the event each night and it was a brilliant success. Those who had charge of the affair are under deep obligations to the public for their liberal patronage which will make it possible to send a large amount of money to those in need.

An enjoyable feature of the bazaar was the music each evening by the orchestra composed of Mrs. Albert, piano; Prof. Barbey, violin; Mr. E. F. Grossman, 'cello. Mr. von Muller also assisted in the piano selections. In addition to the music by these talented musicians, delightful selections were rendered last evening by Mr. Dock, Prof. Johnson, Prof. Hollowbush and Prof. H. Georges.

Many handsome prizes were awarded last evening, the winners being as follows: umbrella, won by Mr. J. M. Solky; City Laundry tickets, won by Mr. G. B. Werner; People's Savings Bank, $5, won by Miss Whitford; pedestal, won by Mrs. R. Sternberger; Citizens' Bank's $5, won by Mr. C. W. Polvogt; lamp, won by Mr. C. RUSSIA NOW TURNS ATTENTION TO AUSTRIA slept in Antwerp last night, all being housed in the forts.

The correspondent adds that a proclamation issued at Antwerp yesterday threatened to imprison all citizens found on the streets after 9 o'clock at night.

"Machine guns have been mounted at the railway station and the impression prevails that the Germans fear their occupation of Antwerp is not in danger," says the dispatch.

MOSLEM FAITH FIRST

Decree Issued to Mohammedans Everywhere as to Their Duty Now.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—The press today says Shuik Uhl Island, the chief ecclesiastical dignitary of Mohammedanism in Turkey, has issued a decree in Constantinople saying that in the fighting with Russia, England and France, the duty of every Musselman is to his faith. This decree is spread throughout the Mohammedan world and announced to the Pilgrims at Mecca.

PARIS NIGHT REPORT

Situation in North Little Changed, According to Official Statement.

Paris, Nov. 6.—The following official communication was issued by the French war office tonight:

"In the North the fighting continues to be severe. According to the latest reports our offensive was proceeding in the region to the south and east of Ypres.

"In the region of Aaras and from Aaras to San Oise several German attacks have been repulsed.

"In the region of the Aisne we have retaken, east of Valley, the village of Soupir, which was lost a few days ago.

"In the Argonne the enemy keeps attacking violently, but without result.

"On the heights east of Verdun we have captured some trenches."

TURKISH CAPITAL QUIET.

Military Law Being Enforced With Rigor at Constantinople.

London, Nov. 6.—Reuter's Sofia correspondent telegraphs:

"A number of subjects of the Triple Entente powers have arrived here from Constantinople. They report that the Turkish capital is quiet and that military law is being enforced with rigor.

"I learned that even the Grand Vizier could not free himself from the trammels of the military party. He tried thrice to resign but was threatened with court martial and forced to remain in office."

CANNON BRINGS SUIT AGAINST NEWSPAPER.

Asks $25,000 Damages in Action Against "Press-Democrat."

Danville, Ill., Nov. 6.—Congressman-elect Jos. G. Cannon today brought suit for $25,000 damages against the Danville Press-Democrat. The complaint does not give the cause of action.

An article contributed by Senator Pettigrew, which was printed by the newspaper during the recently hotly contested election in which the former speaker defeated Congressman Frank T. O'Hair, is believed to have offended Mr. Cannon.

SPORTS OF TODAY

RESULTS IN THE EAST ARE VERY UNCERTAIN

Well Matched Opponents Make for Close Contests

Harvard-Princeton Game and Inter-Sectional Struggle Between the Army and Notre Dame Are of Chief Interest.

New York, Nov. 6.—Unusual uncertainty surrounds the outcome of the leading football games to be played in the East tomorrow. Almost without exception, the principal university elevens face opponents whose records warrant the predictions of exceedingly hard fought, close contests.

The feature games of the day include the anual Harvard-Princeton contest at Cambridge and the Inter-sectional struggle between the Army and Notre Dame at West Point. Interest will not center entirely around these battles, however, for smaller college teams appear to be the most evenly matched and the possibilities for upsets extend from the top to the bottom of the list.

The meeting of Harvard and Princeton brings together two socalled big teams that have not been defeated this fall. Few, if any regulars will be wissing. Both are equipped with splendid broken field runners, forward passers and drop kickers, and victory may come through any one of these methods of advance.

At West Point the cadets will endeavor to reverse the 35 to 13 victory piled up by Notre Dame last year. If the western eleven has profited by its experience and defeat at the hands of Yale three weeks ago, this may not be easily accomplished. Notre Dame has proved itself a very powerful aggregation. Aside from the defeat of Rutgers and Colgate, the cadets have not shown anything resembling remarkable football power.

Yale appears to have a comparatively safe opponent in Brown-Cornell, called upon to face the eleven of Franklin and Marshall, is expected to have a lively tussle for honors. What is expected to be one of the best games of the day will be played at Pittsburgh, where Washington and Jefferson and University of Pittsburgh meet in their annual contest. These two institutions are represented by elevens which are among the most powerful in the East.

Pennsylvania vs. Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Carlisle vs. Holy Cross, at Manchester, Vt.

Williams vs. Wesleyan at Williamstown.

Fordham vs. Navy at Annapolis.

Rochester vs. Colgate at Rochester.

Michigan Plays Pennsy. Today

THIS GAME WILL FEATURE THE MIDDLE WEST FOOTBALL SCHEDULE TODAY.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Michigan's annual clash with Pennsylvania will be the feature football contest in the Middle West tomorrow. The game promises to be a slashing battle. The Quakers have improved steadily since the start of the season and apparently are at their best. On the other hand, it is likely that Hervard game, though it was a rough, wearing contest, helped the morale of the green Michigan squad. Other games tomorrow are:

At Ann Arbor, Pennsylvania vs. Michigan.

At Indianapolis, Ohio State vs. Indiana.

At Evanston, Iowa vs. Northwestern, at Des Moines.

DEDICATION THIS MONTH

Supreme Vice Chancellor to Attend Pythian Exercises.

Supreme Vice Chancellor John J. Brown of Vandalia, Ill., has written Capt. Thos. D. Meares, Supreme Master of Exchequer of the Knights of Pythias, that he will be able to visit Wilmington on November 20 for the dedication of the Pythian Castle Hall on Princess street between Second and Third.

Captain Meares will attend the Pythian rally at Acme tonight and will confer with Grand Chancellor J. G. Baird, who will also attend the rally and make an address, relative to Mr. Brown's trip and after conferring with the joint committee in charge of the arrangements for the dedication will write Mr. Brown. It is likely that Mr. Brown will speak at other points in the State and an effort will be made to have him attend the District Pythian meeting which will be held at Chadbourn on November 19.

THREE MEMBERS AND ONE PROXY BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

That Was Meeting of National Progressive Executive Committee.

New York, Nov. 6.—The Progressive National Executive Committee met behind closed doors today, three members and one man holding a proxy, attending. There are eight members. Subjects of general party interest were discussed, it was announced, but no action was taken and the meeting adjourned to reconvene December 2 in Chicago. Theodore Roosevelt did not attend and it was said he sent no message.

UP TO SUBSCRIBERS

To Insist Upon Their Newspapers Driving Out Vice, Says Capper.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 6.—The newspapers can drive vice from American cities and will do so when readers and subscribers insist upon it, declared Arthur Capper, editor of the Topeka Capital and governor-elect of Kansas, in an address to the International Purity Congress here tonight.

SOUTHLAND STAGES BIG CONTESTS TODAY

Nashville and Atlanta The Stages for Leaders

N. C., A. & M. Meets Georgetown at Washington—Carolina Plays V. M. I. at Charlotte—W. & L. Meets Swarthmore.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 6.—Games between Vanderbilt and Tennessee and the Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) and the Georgia School of Technology feature collegiate football in the South tomorrow. Vanderbilt meets Tennessee at Nashville while Georgia Tech. and Auburn will clash at Atlanta.

Other games of interest include the contests between the University of the South (Sewanee) and Alabama; in Birmingham; North Carolina A. & M. and Georgetown in Washington, and Washington and Lee vs. Swarthmore in Lexington, Va.

Neither Tennessee nor Auburn has met defeat thus far this season and both are strong contenders for the championship of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Both, however, will meet vigorous opposition tomorrow and football critics generally hold the results of the contests to be doubtful.

Sewanee and Alabama also appear to be evenly matched. North Carolina A. & M.'s showing against the Navy last Saturday when it was defeated 16 to 14 after a hard struggle, makes it a slight favorite over Georgetown. No means of comparison of the relative strength of Washington and Lee and Swarthmore is available.

Other games scheduled for tomorrow include:

Georgia vs. Clemson, at Athens.

Mississippi vs. Tulane, at New Orleans.

North Carolina vs. Virginia Military Institute at Charlotte, N. C.

Louisiana State vs. Arkansas at Shreveport, La.

Kentucky State vs. Chattanooga at Lexington, Ky.

Mercer vs. Mississippi A. & M. at Starkeville, Miss.

Virginia vs. St. Johns at Charlottesville, Va.

Louisville vs. Cumberland, at Lebanon, Tenn.

Austin vs. Texas Christian, at Fort Worth, Tex.

Mississippi College vs. St. Louis Christian Brothers, at Memphis.

Southwestern vs. Henderson-Brown, at Little Rock, Ark.

Florida vs. Wofford, at Gainesville.

Texas vs. Haskell Indians at Houston, Tex.

South Carolina vs. Wake Forest, at Columbia, S. C.

TRIPLE DAMAGES AWARDED.

First Important Verdict of King Under Sherman Law.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 6.—What were said to be the first substantial judgments for triple damages entered under the Sherman law, were awarded today by Judge George Ray of the federal court against firms constituting the American Seagreen Slate Company, of Granville.

The judgments, aggregating $25,962.49, were awarded to O'Halloran and Jacobs of Pittsburgh on a verdict that "the defendants violated the Sherman act in the formation of a combination to restrain and to monopolize, or attempt to monopolize the interstate trade in Seagreen slate."

Play a One-One Tie.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—The Harvard and Princeton Association football teams played a 1 to 1 tie in an intercollegiate league game here today.

NO PEACE DOVE HOVERS O'ER MOGULS' SEANCE

Business Of Smoking Pipe of Peace Not Indulged.

Meeting Closed With No Action Regarding Change in New York Ownership—Discussed Different Vital Problems.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—American League club owners closed their annual convention here today, and at its close the baseball war which has been waged ever since the Federal army donned uniforms and trained their siege guns on the parent bodies is no nearer a solution than it was 48 hours ago. Rumors to the effect that the pipe of peace would be smoked in Chicago did not materialize and from what can be gleaned the two factions are still at daggers' points.

The other most vital problem before them, the change in ownership of the New York club, which has been going the rounds recently, was also left untouched by the magnates.

It was declared no formal discussion of the New York club ownership had taken place, but that it was noted that Frank Farrell, of the club, and James Lannin, of the Boston club, Farrell's leading supporter, remained here tonight after the other magnates had left. A shake-up in the membership of the New York club was considered advisable by some magnates as a preliminary to an attempt to strengthen the team.

Everybody admitted that terms on which peace with the Federal League could be reached would not be possible until long negotiations.

Charles Somers, of the Cleveland club, was re-elected vince president of the league without opposition and the board of directors for the ensuing year will include representatives of the Chicago, Cleveland, New York, and Boston clubs.

Most of the owners declared for a reduction in the number of players carried but definite action was deferred until the spring meeting and meantime the National League will be consulted. Reduction in the price of seats at world's series also found unanimous support. The club owners agreed that managers, umpires and players should be instructed to hurry up all games.

Unbeaten Teams In Clash Today

HARVARD AND PRINCETON MEET FOR FIRST EASTERN GAME IN CAMBRIDGE STADIUM.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—Two unbeaten football teams, Princeton and Harvard, will match strength in the Stadium tomorrow. The game will be the first of the major contests in the east. The second will be fought a week from tomorrow, between Princeton and Yale, at Princeton, and the third on the following Saturday, when Yale meets Harvard in the new Yale Bowl.

Harvard was a slight betting favorite tonight. To justify the odds, the Crimson backers claimed a superiority of rushing backs and ends whose all-round play was expected to counteract the long distance kicking of Briggs or Law.

It generally was predicted that the elevens would indulge in a punting duel during the first period, with only enough rushing to feel out each other's defense.

The contest will be the eighteenth since the two universities began playing the Rugby game. Since 1887 Princeton has won 12 games to Harvard's 5. The Crimson has captured the last two. During the present season each team has a record of five games won and one tied.

TIGERS PLAY FORT CASWELL

Will Meet Strong Eleven from the Post at Hilton Park This Afternoon at Three O'clock.

What promises to be the best game of football seen here this season will be played at Hilton Park this afternoon when the strong team from Fort Caswell will meet the Tigers.

The local eleven has been practicing hard for the past few weeks, realizing that they have a team of great strength in the Fort boys, and a tight battle may be expected. Coach Seifert has developed a fast team, and since the game with the strong High School eleven a few weeks ago, which was lost by a few points, has added several good men. Seifert, who was a star end on the crack team of A. & M. a few years ago, has worked wonders with the Tigers since taking hold of them, and under his efficient coaching has rounded a team that can make things at least interesting for any eleven in this section.

The Post is said to have a strong team this year, and under the coaching of Cool, a former A. & M. star, is playing a very classy game of ball.

The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock. About 100 rooters from the Fort are expected to accompany the team and pull for them during the game. A convenient car schedule has been arranged to the park, and the game should be witnessed by a large crowd. Both teams are in fine shape, and while the Post team probably outweighs the Tigers 15 pounds to the man, the locals are counting on their speed to win.

The line-up will be as follows:

Fort Caswell		Tigers
Bremer	re	Shannon
Anderson	rt	Harris or Johnson
Moore	rg	Davis and Farrow
Esh	c	Lewis
Fullbright	lg	Farmer
Estis	lt	Quinlivan
Blair	le	Shaw
Mahoney	qb	Shepard or Myers
Tillman	rhb	Seifert
Long	lhb	LeGwin or Watts
Halseman	fb	Laughridge

CAN GET FACULTY OF UNIVERSITY OF LOUVAIN

Opportunity for American Universities is Pointed Out.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6.—American universities can obtain the faculty of the University of Louvain, Belgium, according to Dr. Samuel P. Capin, of the National Bureau of Education, here today, addressing the annual meeting of the Association of American Universities.

Dr. Capen said he had been informed by professors at Cambridge, England, members of the Louvain faculty are at Cambridge in the hope of finding work. The English professors, he declared, say the attendance at colleges in Great Britain does not warahrdlupujnpj&—the faculties at this t ime. Dr. Capen said there is no doubt that the American colleges can get the services of these men.

—There will be an important meeting of the A. & M. alumni of Wilmington and New Hanover county tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the rooms over the office of Mr. H. E. Bonitz on Princess street. It is hoped that there will be a large number of the alumni in attendance.

NEWS OF A DAY FROM THE STATE'S CAPITAL

Vaudeville Actress Attempts to Commit Suicide

State Farmers' Union Offers Additional Prize in Connection With "Community Service Week"—Sentence Commuted.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—The North Carolina Farmers' Union has added $445 to the list of premiums offered for best work in connection with the observance of Community Service Week in the various counties of the State, December 3, 4 and 5, the original prize having been $100 for the most meritorious report of "How Our Neighborhood Observed Community Week."

The additional prizes are $50, $25 and $10, first, second and third prizes each for reports on best system of co-operative marketing; best report of work done for developing co-operative spirit; best report of survey of educational, agricultural, religious, economic and social conditions; best report of co-operative work in ownership of thoroughbred live stock; best report of co-operative ownership of implements; best report of development of reading habit among the people; best report of work of increasing membership, all these prizes being open to competition by the local Farmers' Unions.

The indications are that more than half the counties will have very general and complete observance of Community Service Week, each of 37 counties having already an average of 50 committees each for pushing various phases of the work for the week.

Actress Attempts Suicide.

Alice McHose, actress, member of "The Go-Ahead Girls," vaudeville troupe playing a week's engagement here with the Grand theatre, was reported at the Rex Hospital this morning to be out of danger following her effort at suicide last night through taking poison. The girl is 22 years old and was despondent and tired of her theatrical life on the vaudeville stage. She took the poison just before the hour for her to fill her engagement at the theatre last night and several times as the night advanced her life was despaired of. Now, however, the expectation is that she will be all right in a few days.

Death Sentence Commuted.

Governor Craig today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Paul Conwell, colored, of Guilford county, under sentence for the murder and robbery of J. H. Taylor, who ran a small store. Conwell was sentenced in July and appealed to the Supreme Court, the appeal being scheduled to be heard at this time. However, he withdrew his appeal and made the application to the Governor for commutation which he now procures. The commutation is recommended by the trial judge, five of the jurors and large numbers of court officers and other citizens. On the other hand, there is a protest signed by a hundred or more citizens. The plea for the negro is that the evidence has an element of doubt as to his guilt that justifies the commutation.

An amendment to the charter of the Citizens' Bank of Mount Olive increases the capital stock to $50,000 and authorizes establishment of branch banks. Thomas E. Cooper is president and H. M. Cox is the cashier.

Adjutant General Laurence W. Young is mailing out to companies composing the First and Third regiments the qualification medals for expert riflemen, sharp shooters and marksmen awarded in connection with the contests on the encampment rifle range the past summer, there being 27 expert riflemen, 59 sharpshooters and 108 marksmen. The Second regiment qualifications were through home target practice, the regiment not having had an encampment last summer, and these home qualifications have not yet been passed upon. As soon as they are these awards will also be made.

FLOUR MILLERS PROTEST TO STATE DEPARTMENT.

Netherlands Refused to Permit Shipments of Flour Except to Govt.

Washington, Nov. 6.—A delegation representing the Millers' National Federation protested to the State Department today that The Netherlands government had refused to permit shipments of flour into Holland except when consigned to the government itself.

The millers declared this decree would break down their flour trade; that the Dutch government was selling the flour directly to the consumer and that bills of lading of goods consigned to the government were not negotiable. As a result, they said, the movement of some 600,000 sacks of flour across the Atlantic was being held up. They asserted that should other neutral nations adopt a similar attitude utter demoralization of the American flour trade would result.

Acting Secretary Lansing asked his visitors to submit their complaint in writing and promised to do what he could for them.

The delegation comprised M. N. Mennel, of Toledo; Charles L. Roos, Wellington, Kans.; Samuel Plant, St. Louis; J. W. Craig, Richmond, Va., and A. P. Husband, Chicago.

MADE HIS OWN COFFIN

Aged Citizen of Kinston, Cancer Ridden, is Found Dead.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 6.—James Turner, aged 70, probably took the advice of Dr. Osler and killed himself when cancer incapacitated him. The old man was found dead at the home of his niece in Neuse township near here, after he had taken laudanum. The disease had attacked portions of his face, especially the nose, with violence.

Turner was buried in a wooden coffin, matallic covered, made by his own hands some time ago.

DANIELS IS INDIGNANT

Blue Jackets in Uniform Barred From New York Theatre.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Secretary Daniels was indignant today when he read a report that four bluejackets in uniform had been barred from a New York theatre.

"This is nothing less than an outrage," said Secretary Daniels, "and I shall instruct the commandant of the New York yard to see that the rights of the men in question are investigated when their complaint comes up for hearing."

JUDGE PEEBLES SUES FOR $10,000 DAMAGE

Action Against G. A. Norwood and Brown Brothers.

Suit a Sequel to Sensational Action in Which the Goldsboro Editors Were Held in Contempt of Court. Crime Uncovered.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, Nov. 6.—Hon. W. S. O'B. Robinson returned to the city this afternoon from Jackson, where he has been in attendance at Northampton court to represent the defendants in the case of Judge R. B. Peebles vs. Brown brothers, editors of the Goldsboro Record, and George A. Norwood, president of the National Bank, for liable damages, this being a civil suit for $10,000 damage, pending.

In an interview with your correspondent, Judge Robinson stated that when he filed an affidavit before Judge W. M. Bond, presiding at this term of court, the case was removed to the county of Halifax, and in this action that Judge Bond was to be commended in that it shows he stands for impartial justice.

This action is a sequel to the one tried before Judge Peebles at Northampton court in September when he acted judge, jury and solicitor and sentenced the Goldsboro editors to 60 days each in jail and fined them $500 each, upon contempt of court charges he himself entered against them. Judge Peebles stated during the trial of the editors that he intended entering suit against several prominent business men of Goldsboro, but among the list he mentioned at the time he only selected one, this being Mr. George A. Norwood.

Crime Uncovered.

A crime came to light late this afternoon, when several children playing near the Union Station discovered a box in which was the dead form of an infant baby girl. Deputy Sheriff Toler was summoned to the scene in company with Coroner C. E. Stanley and the remains were taken to the Goldsboro Undertaking Company's establishment and an inquest held, the doctor in attendance stating the child had been alive when born. The head was crushed in and some parts of the body had been eaten away, and apparently, so it is said, had been dead 48 hours. Officers have a strong clue upon which they are working.

Football Game.

In the best football game of the season on the local gridiron, Goldsboro defeated Kinston this afternoon, score 27 to 20. The game wound up with a fight, but spectators interferred before eye decorations were very much in evidence.

CAPE FEAR FAIR AWARDS HAVE BEEN ANNOUNCED

Names of Those Winning Important Cash Prizes and Other Premiums.

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 4.—The prize for the best agricultural display at the Cape Fear Fair, carrying a cash award of $115 besides special premiums, goes to Mr. Joel Williams, of Cumberland county. The second prize of $40 was won by W. C. Fields, also of Cumberland, while the third prize, $25, is awarded to G. B. Sessoms, of Cumberland. Mr. Williams had 202 varieties of agricultural products on exhibit. For the best bale of cotton exhibited a prize of $50 offered by W. E. Kindley is awarded to J. A. Neal, of Seventy-first township, Cumberland county. Mr. Neal's bale also won a fertilizer distributor given by the John A. McKay company of Dunn. Mr. J. J. Johnson won the second prize on cotton, $15, and a special premium of a one-horse plow given by Charles Heigh.

In the tobacco contests, which attracted perhaps more attention than any other agricultural class, Mr. R. L. Taylor, of Wade, carried off first honors. Mr. Taylor won the first award of $20 and a special award premium of a $68 range offered by the Fayetteville Furniture company, for the tobacco bringing the highest price on the Fayetteville market, 2,000 brick given by the A. E. Poe Brick Manufacturing company for the largest load of tobacco sold on the Fayetteville market, a $5 prize for second best five bundles of wrappers and a $15 suit of college cut clothes going therewith. The first award for wrappers was won by Mr. W. J. Evans, of Gray's Creek, this being $10 and a certificate on the purchase of a Ford automobile and $10 in cash goes to W. J. Evans, of Gray's Creek, exhibitor of the best wrappers. For the best five bundles of cutters Mr. Evans also gets a cash award of $10 and a special premium of $10 from A. S. Huske. Mrs. Daisy Martin wins second award of $5 and a case of Virginia Dare wine made in Fayetteville and offered by the Tokay vineyard.

D. L. Tew, of Cumberland county, made the best showing in the boys' contests. He won a $10 first premium given by the Rosemont hotel for the best tobacco grown by a boy under 18, a $15 prize and a $25 saddle and bridle given by J. A. King in the boys' judging contest, this being a competition in judging live stock and corn.

For the best bushel of corn, any single ear variety, Alex McCaskill took first prize, $10 in awards and special premium. D. L. Downing won first prize for best bushel of corn, any prolific variety, and for best ten ears of any prolific variety. The boys' corn contest was won by Albert Byrd, his winnings being $15 in cash and an 18-jewel gold watch given by R. H. Upton.

Miss Janie Maultsby won first award, $5, offered by A. H. Breece for tomatoes grown by a tomato club girl.

Mr W. H. Downing won the blue ribbon and $10 for best thoroughbred couch stallion. The best pair of draft horses shown in harness and the best draft mare were shown by H. S. Clark, of Manchester, this county. The blue ribbon for best saddle horse was taken by Mr. Adam McArthur, of Fayetteville, while W. E. Hunnicutt, of Linden, was the blue ribbon winner in the buggy horse class. The ribbon for the best pony in harness was carried off by T. M. Green, while Master Samuel H. Strange, Jr., rode the best saddle pony. T. H. Ballard won first award for best pair of mules shown in harness.

In the dairy cattle division the first honors were taken by F. L. Holcomb, of Fayetteville. He won the first awards for pure bred Jersey bull, best grade Jersey cow, best grade Holstein cow. To J. B. McCormack, Parkton, Robeson county, went first award for a pure bred Berkshire boar, while J. F. Lee, of Wade, Cumberland county, won first prize for pure bred Duroch Jersey boar.

ELECTION NO SURPRISE

Senator Simmons at Home Resting, Says Nothing Else Was to Be Expected "Off Year."

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 6.—Senator F. M. Simmons, chairman of the finance committee of the United States senate, who is spending a few days in this city recuperating from the effects of a strenuous session of Congress, expresses himself as not being alarmed by the result of Tuesday's election. In conversation with friends the Senator has said that he expected a small vote on account of the fact that this is an "off year" in politics and that the gains made in some sections by the Republicans are inconsequential.

The Senator will probably remain here for two or three weeks or perhaps until Congress again convenes. While here he is taking the rest he has long needed and is allowing nothing to worry him.

Passing of a Landmark.

Down on South Front street near the Gaston hotel, several laborers have for the past few days been engaged in removing the contents of the locksmith shop of the Hall Brothers and are cleaning out the building. No more will the triggers of some oldtime musket or the kinky springs of some obstinate clock be repaired there and in the passing of this shop there passes one of Newbern's oldest landmarks. The firm of Hall Brothers was composed by J. P. and J. T. Hall, the latter deceased about a year, and the friendship and brotherly love existing between these two men during their near four-score years, far surpassed that of Damon and Pythias. For 50 years they presided over the little shop in which they repaired locks and other articles for people all over the State and won fame in their line. A most unusual thing in the lives of these two men is that, up until the death of J. T. Hall, for a period of 75 years they were not separated for more than a few hours but on one occasion and that was when the latter was taken a prisoner during the civil war and was held in confinement for seven months. After the death of his brother, Mr. J. P. Hall decided to cease the operation of the locksmith establishment and at once began to dispose of his stock. This has been completed and the building is now as bare as it was the day they went into it 50 years ago. Mr. J. P. Hall will spend his remaining years in comfort and in the companionship of the hundreds of friends he has in this city.

Williamson, the probable choice for

RECOVERING FROM SLUMP.

Which Followed Game With Vanderbilt University—Injured Straight.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 6.—The Carolina team has about recovered from the slump in form following the fierce Vanderbilt game. The old snap has come back into the men. The scrimmages during the past week have been the fiercest seen on the field here this fall. So while the team will be considerably different from the one that started the Vandy game close followers of the game expect a big score in favor of the Tar Heels.

The team is still suffering from injuries. Homewood is still out with his knee, Fuller's ankle is still weak, Bridges will rest his knee for another week. Tandy, Tayloe, Erwin, Cowell, Gay and others are inconvenienced by slight bruises. The team will probably line up as follows: Eads, Grimsley and Williamson; tackles, Andrews and Ramsay; guards, F. Jones and Cowell; center, Tandy; quarter, Allen; halves, Tayloe and Burnett; fullback, Parker

The competition for places on the first team this week has been exceptionally fierce. The big surprise of the week has been the development of June Andrews, a 212 pound scrub linesman. This is his second year and for the first time he has shown class. All this week, however, he has alternated between the varsity and the scrubs. He has been tearing up the opposing line. Pope has also developed as a serious consideration for fullback. His chief defect is slowness in starting. The coaches just at this time are emphasizing speed and low running. Pope weighs 180 pounds and on his good days hits the line with terrific force.

Williamson, the probable choice for right end, is a 142 pounder who has earned the reputation of being "the hardest tackler on the field." He is as fast as he is hard.

FOURTEEN YOUNG HOBOES ARE FLUSHED AT WILSON

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, Nov. 6.—Fourteen boys ranging from 16 to 20 years beating their way South on a freight train of the Atlantic Coast Line gave the Wilson police the time of their lives yesterday. When the train stopped here the chief of police with several officers began searching the train and when he reached the car in which the boys were hiding they broke out and ran in various directions. Several escaped but others were arrested as vagrants. One of the boys had $45 and others had less sums. They claimed to be traveling from Baltimore to San Francisco.

Wilson people are enjoying a "cut price meat war" between rival markets. The opportunity came after the decision of the town board to rent space in the market to additional firms.

Burglars entered the residence of R. W. McFarland early yesterday morning but were frightened away before securing booty of any value. Forty cents in cash was taken from the pocket of the trousers belonging to Mr. McFarland.

MR. ZEB B. BRASWELL DEAD.

Prominent Citizen of Wilson County Dies Suddenly.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, Nov. 6.—Mr. Zeb B. Braswell, a leading citizen of Toisnot township, residing five miles from Elm City, died suddenly Thursday. Mr. Braswell was apparently in usual health Wednesday night, he attended church at Elm City and drove home and retired for the night. Thursday morning death came without warning, following a sudden attack of heart disease. Mr. Braswell was a member of the firm of Braswell, Dawes & Company and also a stockholder in the Toisnot Banking Company, of Elm City. He was 45 years old and leaves a wife and five children. The funeral service was held today.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily and mailed to subscribers outside the county at $6 per year; $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; or served by carrier in the city and suburbs at 60c. per month, or, when paid in advance, $7.00 per year, $3.50 for six months, $1.75 for three months.

THE SUNDAY STAR by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to the readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51. Editorial and Local rooms, No. 51. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable and all communications should be addressed to

The Turk also thinks he is licking the fight.

Let us now get down to business. We can't howl and work at the same time.

Don't let us have a food problem next year in addition to our cotton problem.

Even the Turks won't tell us the facts, sworn to by the bead of the prophet.

Nobody had better dig Uncle Joe out as if he were the oldest rat in the barn.

"All the world's a stage," but most of us act like we don't know it's loaded.

No party with a living principle can die. This does not refer to the Bull Moose party.

Servia and Turkey have also gone to war, although the former will have help to Servia Turkey.

We deplore everything bad that happens to all participants in war. We believe in the brotherhood of man.

"No answer to the wireless cry." There could be no answer from a warship gone down with 900 valiant men.

It is said the ocean lanes are safe but if they are not safe for warships how can they be safe for commerce?

There are some offenses for which nobody will accept our apologies especially when we offer a poor excuse.

With nearly the whole world at war, we ought to be thankful we are getting along as well as could be expected to.

If former President Taft really has the sense of humor he should go out behind the barn and cry for what has happened to the Progressive party.

The Progressive party refused to fuse with the Republican party unless the G. O. P. should swallow Progressive principles. The G. O. P. stood pat and absorbed the Progressives without yielding a thing to them.

Political apathy in North Carolina is a bad sign. The North Carolina Democracy should discover the cause and provide a cure within the next two years. The new Legislature which meets in January will have to make the start.

The people of North Carolina want their institutions taken care of but when they have a chance to make it possible for the Legislature to do it, thousands of them refuse to amend the constitution so a less burdensome and more equitable system of taxation can be devised.

Nearly every newspaper in the South has expressed the hope that the homeless Belgians can be induced to seek homes in their communities. It is a safe bet that no section of the South has taken any steps to attract the Belgians. We wish for new settlers. We must work for them.

The Moose proved a poor stool pigeon for the Democratic animule in last Tuesday's election. The Moose has degenerated into a dead duck. The Progressive party had 19 members in the present Congress. In the next Congress, which begins March 4, that party will have but 7 members.

"We want two strong political parties in North Carolina" till election time, and then it scares us to death to think of having strong opposition. We always did hate to belong to a numerically weak party, but that is better than belonging to a numerically strong party that is weak in statesmanship. The Democratic party is now strong in two particulars, if only some of its leaders would follow its statesmen.

THE TWO PARTIES

The general result of the election on Tuesday shows that the people of this country refuse to recognize but two parties—the Democratic party of fixed and everlasting principles, and the opposition party opposed to its policy of "equal rights to all, special privileges to none." The Democratic party is opposed to special privileges, and all voters who favor the protection and privilege policy as opposed to that sooner or later will unite as one. The opposition organization is the Republican party and, though it may be abandoned, it stands pat as the one party of privilege and back to it goes all who are willing to see the people exploited in the interest of tariff beneficiaries.

Former President Roosevelt started another special privilege, protection party, but there was no room for two such parties. In fact, there would not have been two but for the ambition of the ex-President, who is anxious to serve a third term, contrary to the sentiment of the great majority of Americans of all parties. The result of the election shows that the minority sentiment for a third term has about petered out.

The Progressive party is little more than two years old, and has participated in two elections. In the election two years ago it elected 19 members of Congress. In Tuesday's election only seven were returned. That gives the Progressive and Socialist parties eight since the Socialists elected a representative in New York city. Colonel Roosevelt has heard the news but he has nothing to say. He only quotes Scripture. When asked for an expression of opinion on the outcome of the election in New York, where even Sulzer received more votes for governor than did the Colonel's man, he said:

"In the Episcopal church, lessons taken from the Bible are appointed for every day in the year. The lesson for November 3 includes the second epistle of Paul to Timothy, iv:3, 4, which reads as follows:

"'For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine. But after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers having itching ears, and they shall turn away their ears from the truth and shall be turned unto fables.'

"I have nothing to add to this at present. After all the returns are in I may have something more to say."

That question is apt and it is about all that the Colonel could say at this time. He wil talk later, probably. It may be a long time, however, for he will now be compelled to lay other plans. He has failed in keeping a party together for the main purpose of making him President again. Doubtless, he will have to go back to the Republican party under the excuse that it has amended its plan of organization so he can capture it within two years, or else try to do it. His first line of action for getting back to the White House has been flooded. His only chance now is to get in the G. O. P. and make it follow him.

THE REPUBLICAN DOCTRINE OF DUPLICITY.

A Republican paper in the West says the war in Europe has brought great prosperity to the grain growers. A Republican paper in North Carolina says "the Democratic cry of war in Europe has knocked the bottom out of things." Now that the election is all over, Southern Republicans should explain why the same cry of war in Europe brings great prosperity to the West and knocks the bottom out of things in the South.

We have one cause with two entirely different effects. The explanation is an economical one and not a political one, but we wonder if North Carolina Republican editors would be honest enough with their readers to tell them the real reason why the war has one effect in the West and a different one in the South. Are they ignorant themselves or have they made a plaything of the ignorance of their patrons?

During the Roosevelt panic of 1907, the worst the country ever experienced according to Republican statistics issued from Washington, the President of this country was Colonel Roosevelt. Nevertheless, during the political campaign just ended, Republicans all over the country have blamed recent depressed conditions on the Wilson administration. Of course, they are not one-tenth as bad as they were during the Roosevelt panic, but how is it that Republicans can't remember that? How are they going to explain the fact that under the Wilson administration the business conditions are rapidly improving and a large portion of the country is having more prosperity than ever? How can they conceive that it is possible for business to revive with a Democratic administration still at the helm? Won't they have to give Wilson credit for it, else give another reason why there is returning prosperity in spite of a Democratic adminstration?

Prosperity already is returning to most of the country. Prosperity seems to be very foolish in coming along so Wilson can get credit for it.

WHITMAN FOR PRESIDENT.

The New York World (Dem.) thinks "it is not unnatural that Mr. Whitman's friends should read in his large plurality the Republican nomination for President in 1916." Of course, as politics go, the new governor of New York will be a big figure in the Republican party, but the people will expect to see what Mr. Whitman does as governor before they will consider him as a presidential eligible. Simply carrying New York by a big plurality is no sign of a president. Nevertheless, it counts in that it gives Mr. Whitman a chance to play his cards. The World quite correctly views it in this manner:

"It is not unnatural that Mr. Whitman's friends should read in his large plurality the Republican nomination for President in 1916. The Republicans will have to nominate somebody; the party is exceptionally deficient in available presidential material, and a Republican governor of New York will have claims to consideration which cannot be set lightly aside. Mr. Cleveland marched from political obscurity to the White House via Albany, and while Mr. Whitman is little known to the Republicans of the country, he is quite as well known as Mr. Cleveland was to the Democrats when he was elected governor in 1882 by a record-breaking majority. If Mr. Whitman has Presidential ambitions they are not to his discredit; but if he wins the Republican nomination in 1916 he must do something besides be elected governor of New York in 1914. He must have to his credit a record of substantial achievements in government and in administrative reform. The opportunity is there. No more fertile field than Albany can be found, and no Republican in the country has today a better chance than Charles S. Whitman to rise to the national leadership of his party."

Mr. Whitman will have to win over Colonel Roosevelt, but he may do so, yet the night before the election the Bull Moose roundly denounced the Republican candidate. In response, however, the people of New York overwhelmingly endorsed Whitney and rejected the Colonel's man.

NEW YORK THE WORLD'S FINANCIAL CENTER.

New York, the Journal of Commerce says, is now conceded to be the world's finnacial center, and it will remain in that premier position at least during the remainder of the war in Europe. It has definitely displaced London, it is said, and Paris and Berlin may as well have been named in that same connection.

Thus early in the war, London is coming to New York for remittances to France, or to Holland, or to Italy, and those countries are doing the same thing in respect to Great Britain's financial center. America seems to be the only source of money supply, as it is the main supply for food stuffs for the armies of Europe.

In both respects, however, we may ultimately be the sufferers. The European countries may deplete us of money for war loans and strip us of our food supplies in such enormous amounts as to greatly increase the cost of living in the United States. As was to be seen in a Star dispatch yesterday wheat jumped to $1.22 a bushel in Portland on Wednesday. The high price of wheat is causing the Western farmers to put every acre they can in wheat. The South ought to follow suit for the biggest grain crop it ever produced.

As to drawing on America for money, it is quite sure that all the belligerents will want huge war loans from the world, especially from the United States. Already Great Britain plans the greatest war loan in the history of the world. She will attempt to float a loan of one billion dollars.

CURRENT COMMENT.

We know nothing of other sections, but down here lack of interest caused it all.—Durham Herald.

Rev. S. F. Conrad, formerly a resident of this city, wrote a letter to the Charlotte Observer and declares that the clubs of that city are "more demoralizing and corrupting than blind tigers, because they are run under cover of law." Being a resident of Charlotte, Mr. Conrad is in a position to judge. We have carried the prohibition question to extremes, it would seem, and should not be surprised at the results.—Winston Republican.

Prof. Taft's quiet satisfaction in regarding the rapid dissolution of the Progressive party is a gentlemanly form of revenge.—New York World.

Son-in-Law Nick Longworth comes back to Congress along with several other standpatters, intent, as he says, upon opening the factories. Perhaps he refers to those that were closed in 1907-08, when Mr. Roosevelt was President.—New York World.

In view of Tuesday's performances, we all now can realize fully President Wilson's wisdom in putting through the principal features of the Democratic programme at the recent session of Congress. The Republican heathen may rage in the lower House as much as they please, but the goods have been delivered to the country and can't be recalled. Considerable of a forward-looker is this same Mr. Wilson.—Baltimore Sun.

It was really touching to see, near the close of the campaign, how the representatives of corporations became so concerned lest the people would have to pay more taxes under the proposed amendment to the constitution. Owners of city blocks assessed at anywhere from 25 to 50 per cent of their value were also afraid that the owner of the humble cottage, who is now paying taxes on 75 to 100 per cent of its value, might have his taxes increased; and the owner of much cash and solvent credits, who overlooked them when he made his tax return, was also afraid that the taxes of the poor man might be increased. This consideration for the poor folks was so touching that it almost moved one to tears—or to profanity.—Statesville Landmark.

The Union Republican, quoting from a recent article by Rev. S. F. Conrad, makes it appear that Mr. Conrad said "the clubs of Charlotte" are more demoralizing and corrupting than blind tigers, because they are run under cover of the law. In one way Mr. Conrad was correctly quoted, but he was referring not to the clubs of Charlotte, but to the clubs at Lakewood, a suburb outside police jurisdiction, these clubs being established, it is charged, more especially as resorts where liquor may be made handy to the members. Charlotte's commercial and social clubs are of legitimate recognition under the forms of the law.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Epidemics among infant fish in Government hatcheries cost the country more than $1,000,000 a year, according to estimates by the bureau of fisheries of the Department of Commerce. These epidemics occur mostly among fish less than six months of age, and are so sweeping as to carry off as many as 500,000 fish in one week. The bureau of fisheries has brought this loss to the attention of Congress three times. It asks for an appropriation of the trifling sum of $2,500 to cover the salary of a "family physician" for all domesticated fish. Such a fish pathologist, it is claimed, could reduce infant mortality among fish just as proper medical attention is reducing the mortality of children. It is not likely that the present Congress will grant this appropriation. Yet the maintenance of a fish pathologist would mean considerable saving in the cost of living. Fish is coming more and more into use as the poor man's meat.—Chicago Tribune.

Last year Murphyism broke the back of the Democratic party in New York city. This year Murphyism has broken the back of the Democratic party of New York State. The people of New York will no longer tolerate Tammany Hall government at Albany. They have said it in the great vote polled for Mr. Whitman. They have said it still more emphatically in the vote polled for William Sulzer. Discredited and disgraced, a bankrupt in reputation as well as in character, Sulzer has again proved himself the political Nemesis of the boss who impeached him and removed him from the governorship, not because he had pocketed campaign contributions but because he had refused longer to take orders from Charles F. Murphy. A sorry implement of political justice, perhaps, but William Sulzer has nevertheless done his work and done it effectively. When tens of thousands of voters sieze upon such an instrument of political retribution, in what utter detestation must they hold Murphyism? Gov. Glynn is the victim of conditions which he did not create, but which, unfortunately, he had taken no strong measures to remedy. He is not a member of Tammany hall. He has never been identified with Tammany politics; but on the other hand, he has never identified himself conspicuously with the militant Democracy that is irrevocably opposed to Murphyism. The governor's political defeat is the inevitable result of trying to be friendly enough to Tammany to gain its support and independent enough of Tammany to win the support of the anti-Murphyism Democracy.—New York World (Dem.)

THE SICK MAN OF THE EAST.

To the Editor of The Star:

Your remark in Tuesday's issue of The Star that the Turk has lost his head is correct. In a few weeks, it is likely that we may be able to say that the Turk has lost his whole. It would look very appropriate indeed for the Sultan, at this hour, to become Christian and stand among the family of nations singing: "In the Sweet Bye and Bye' We shall meet on the beautiful shore.' By this grave Turkish blunder, the Turk has signed his own death warrant. He is doomed, and his fate is sealed. This case does not need a mathematician for any calculations to reach that conclusion, when a bit of history will reveal the fact that the Turk owes his very existence to the nations allied to fight him today.

For the last two centuries he has ceased to be a terror and a conqueror. In the last 400 years his dominion dwindled from 80 millions, until at present he can hardly count on 20 million under his flag, half of which almost is nominal. The Turkish Empire, now to expire, has been for over half a century until the present hour, under the influence of the three nations composing the Triple Entente. England, France and Russia had spheres of influence by mutual arrangements. The Turks knew it, and the inhabitants of Turkey knew that also. It has been the impression of Abdul Hamid that he cannot rule a united Turkey, but a divided one. For that reason he has always discouraged enterprises and industries among his intelligent subjects, for fear that their commercial activities will ultimately lead to their emancipation. Therefore, whatever enterprises exist in Turkey, they are chiefly established by foreigners. The degree of influence of each nation depended altogether on the amount of investment made by that nation.

Perhaps we all know by this time that the Turkish Empire is composed of several nationalities—separate and distinct—in languages, customs, dress, and manner of speech. On the whole, we may divide the mass into four great bodies, to be, in their turn, subdivided also into several other elements.

First—The Mohammedans: Turks, Kurds, Arabs, civil and nomadic; Bedouins; Turcomans; Circassians, etc.

Second—The Druses, who are adverse to Mohammedan teachings, and have other followers composing other sects.

Third—Christians. In the order named: Greek Orthodox, Greek Catholics, Maronite, Latin, Jacobites, Armenians, Syriacs, Protestants, etc.

Fourth—The Jews: First the old time orthodox, the reformed, settling around the Holy City, the Samaritans, etc.

Now all the above elements, with perhaps fifty more added to them, constitute the Turkish Empire. With few exceptions none of the above, except the Turk himself, is in sympathy with the government.

It sounds like a ghastly joke to me when some of our papers place the Turkish army at 700,000 with a possible reserve of 1,000,000, when one knows that Turkey has hardly more than 10,000,000 population.

It is idle for me to state that under Turkey live some of the best fighters of the world, but perhaps 75 per cent of them would rather fight in a war of emancipation than in one tending for their future subjugation.

There are also other causes underlying this conclusion. Among other things is the great popularity of the powers of the Triple Entente. Then there is the sympathy of the majority of Turkey's subjects who are foreign sympathisers. Out of gratitude they much rather fight on the side of the allies than that of Turkey, which is only here for a while longer.

Then there are the Mohammedan Arabs, with direct descendants of the Prophet claiming the country, may take the sword for their own salvation. Thousands of Mohammedans, themselves veterans of the war of 1878, may not take the field against Russia, who as prisoners of war in Russian hands at that time were delivered from a state of starvation and made comfortable.

Almost 90 per cent of Turkish subjects realize the considerable gain to be made under foreign rule, especially that of England or France in the order named.

Perhaps there will be leaning towards the restoration of the Arabic dominion of Caliphs, the successors of the prophet, by reason of their maintenance of the highest standard of morality, for which the country is noted.

Even the Christian will be found in favor of that dominion. But such result is unlikely. Of course, no one nation will have all of Turkey, nor is it possible that any one nation has thus planned, the country being already subdivided and only waiting final adjustment.

The entry of Turkey in this conflict is constituting a distinct and a separate war in that it has to be fought on different grounds and under various conditions. It is a foregone conclusion that its result will bring about the final elimination of Turkey from Europe.

To attain this result, the war will have to be fought on land, more so than on the water, since the approaches to Constantinople are reeking with mines, though the fortifications are antiquated and useless. The interest at any rate will center around the possession of Constantinople, and it is needless to say that it is bound to fall into Russia's hands. No other nation is more adequately prepared or is in a position to move on that city than is Russia.

In the last 125 years six great wars were fought between Turkey and Russia, in all of which the Russians were the victors except in the Crimeans of 1856, when the allied powers, out of fear of Russian predominance, came to Turkey's assistance. In two of these wars, the Russians after inflicting a crushing defeat on the Turks, were temporarily in possession of Constantinople. They entered that city in 1833, while in 1878 they stood within 16 miles, thundering at its entrance, turning back under threat from the British fleet then at the harbor of the Bosphorus. Conditions now are entirely different from those of 1878, and the once antagonistic powers are now united. It would look really useless for Russia's allies to stay her hands in that direction, as the conquest of Constantinople has been her aim for centuries in pursuance of a policy laid down by Peter the Great, the real founder of the Romanoff dynasty.

Never in history has a better opportunity presented itself to Russia under conditions and pretenses favorable to that aim than the present. Very little comfort indeed will the Turk have that he is commanded by German generals. True, it may be argued that the hands of the Russians are full at present, but this move on the part of Turkey was not altogether unexpected and adequate preparation was made by Russia to meet it. It would not be surprising, however, that at the outset, the Turks will make some headway. But the Russians can afford to wait three or four weeks, when campaigning in Poland and East Prussia is rendered impracticable by the conditions of the country in the winter, and then detach from her immense army one million strong to descend upon the Turk and serve him in good fashion, just as you have properly remarked, Mr. Editor, in The Star a few days ago, "Will Russia Servia Turkey"?

Syria is likely to be France's share of the spoils. In so far as the conquest of the seaport towns she has an extremely easy job, as she will hardly be required to fire more than one dozen shells before bringing the Turks to their knees.

Jerusalem and adjacent country of sacred memory to the Christians, is likely to be disputed by the Russians, by reason of their extremely religious instinct, and no stone is likely to remain unturned by them for its ownership.

Within 12 months at most we may see Palestine free from horrible Turkish atrocities, and his lamentable desecration of everything dear to the Christian heart.

The fate of Turkish dominions now is not far off from that of Belgium—with hunger, deprivation staring especially the Christians in the face. Information I have in my possession portrays a deplorable condition. However, if every good thing is attainable only by sacrifices, even in the face of these calamities such conditions are welcomed.

The day, in my judgment, is not far off, when for the first time in its history, "The Land of the Cross will have unfurled the flag for the Cross."

TWO MEN FROM COLUMBUS KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Double Tragedy Occurred Yesterday in Lower Robeson.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 6.—At an early hour this morning, in the lower end of this county, two men from Columbus employed by the Butters Lumber Company, were instantly killed by a falling tree which they were cutting.

The tree fell in a different direction from what they expected, catching them before they could escape. Several other men witnessed the tragedy and an inquest was considered unnecessary.

MANY SEND GIFTS TO EUROPE

Large Shipment of Merchandise From Wilmington for Santa Claus Ship. Children Help.

There was a most generous response to the appeal made by the Wilmington chapter of the Red Cross Society for articles to be sent to the European countries now at war on the United States steamship Jason which sails from New York Tuesday with a cargo of Christmas gifts for the unfortunate people of these countries. The donations which were packed and shipped yesterday, filled 16 large barrels and eight large boxes Several barrels are yet to be shipped There was also a generous donation in money

The school children entered most heartily in bringing gifts to the school buildings and the number of gifts received was far in excess of the expectations of the ladies of the Red Cross Society. There were three barrels of sweaters and stockings ,six barrels of canned goods, delicacies and substantial food The other barrels and the boxes were filled with clothing all of this being in good condition and most of it new

The committee in charge are especially grateful to the school children for their assistance and to the express companies for their liberality in carrying the packages to New York free of charge.

A telegram was sent last evening to the New York World, under whose auspices the ship is being loaded, containing the information that the goods had been shipped. The following from Thursday's New York World will be of interest:

"The U. S. S. Jason, Lieut-Commander C. E. Courtney, commanding, which has been detailed by Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels to act as The World Santa Claus ship, is at the Brooklyn Navy yard preparing to receive the cargo of Christmas presents gathered by American girls and boys—with some first rate help from grown ups. These presents will be given on Christmas day to the million or more children made fatherless by the European war.

"Tomorrow or the day after the Jason will steam to the Bush Terminal, the use of which has been given by President Irving T. Bush of the company as a loading station for the Santa Claus ship.

"Not only has he made it possible for the ship to use the finest loading station in this harbor, but he has directed also that trucks, lighters and tugboats of the company shall carry to the Jason's pier the mountainous cargo of Christmas gifts now at Pier No. 1, North River.

"Mr. Bush received word yesterday from the Southern Pacific Railway that two carloads of gifts had arrived here aboard the steamship El Norte. Arrangements were made to transport them to the terminal.

"Assurances were received yesterday from many persons that they would be only too happy to care for some of the war orphans, if these were brought to this country aboard the Jason upon her return trip.

"It has been suggested that the Jason be decorated in real Christmas fashion, so that she will be easily recognized as she steams down the bay on her mission of mercy next Tuesday.

"It has been suggested also that some one give a large banner, with a great picture of Santa Claus painted upon it, which may be hoisted to the masthead and unfolded to the breeze the moment the Jason casts off her lines and heads for the open ocean.

"There is immense activity at the Bush Terminal. Major F. H. Lawton, U. S. A., of the quartermaster's department is directing eight non-commissioned officers and 48 soldiers from Fort Hamilton in the work of unpacking gifts and repacking them in proper form for the voyage. Lieut. C. J. D. Spreckels, U. S. A., retired, is lending a helping hand as a welcome volunteer.

"Wanamaker's has detailed two women and four men, all expert assorters and packers, to help load the Christmas ship

"Persons who ask whether packages marked for a certain country will surely reach that land should find content in this statement of the way in which the United States army representatives and the Red Cross workers mark the boxes: The gifts first are assorted. Then those marked for certain countries are put in groups accordingly. Then the other bundles are arranged, according to nature of contents. Finally all are placed in huge packing boxes.

"Instead of marking a box, "say, "For Germany," a large German flag printed on paper, is pasted on top of the box. If the consignment is for Belgium, the colors of that country are marked on the box.

HOME SAVINGS BANK MOVED.

Popular Young Institution Now at Front and Chesnut Streets.

Since Wednesday of this week the Home Savings Bank, one of Wilmington's youngest but none the less strong and popular savings institutions, has been at home in its own building at corner of Front and Chesnut streets, formerly occupied by its larger neighbor, the Murchison National Bank, which has moved into the handsomest and largest building in the city, just across the street. The Home was never in better position to do business in its life and President Joe Yates and Cashier Jesse Roache are to be congratulated upon moving into the larger and more handsome quarters.

The room in the rear of the building, formerly used by the Murchison as a director's room, is being handsomely fitted up for occupancy by the Housewives' League and the tenants on the second floor will remain practically the same, it is understood.

MRS. MARTHA WILLIAMS DEAD.

Highly Respected Wilmington Lady Died at Home Yesterday.

Friends will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Martha Elizabeth Williams which occurred at her home, No. 724 South Sixth street, yesterday morning at 9:40 o'clock. She was 46 years old. Surviving her besides her husband are four children as follows: Mrs. F. G. Jones, of Wake Forest; George Clinton, Bruce Milton and Ludlow Williams, of this city. They will have the tender sympathy of many friends.

The funeral arrangements had not been completed yesterday but the services will probably be conducted from the residence this afternoon by Rev. W. G. Hall, pastor of Southside Baptist church. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

MAYOR STATES HIS POSITION

Wilmington's Chief Executive Presents His Side of Question—City Attorney's Opinion.

Mayor P. Q. Moore, of Wilmington, yesterday gave the public press a signed statement of his position in the matter as to the rights and powers of the Chief Executive of this city to which was appended the opinion of City Attorney E. K. Bryan regarding the same question. These statements are made following a published statement by Councilman Jones in which he cited an opinion prepared by E. S. Martin, Esq., of this city, in which the latter took the position that the mayor does not have the right to appoint a special officer for general purposes, independent of the police department and that the counciman of public safety is in direct control of the police department.

The Mayor's Statement.

The statement of Mayor Moore, in which he sets forth his position in the controversy, is as follows:

"I have no comments to make on Mr. Martin's opinion, but lawyers differ. The city attorney's opinion is quoted below. In the opinion of other lawyers at this bar, the Mayor is the Chief Executive of all departments of the city. If not, and he has no power over them, for what is the office? I have no judicial power. All agree as to that. If, then, I can exert no power over the other departments, the Mayor's power is nothing, and the situation becomes absurd. Now, as I read it, the charter says, 'The Council shall determine the power and duties to be performed by each department and assign them to the appropriate department, unless otherwise provided in this act;' but it is provided in 'the act' that the Mayor is the 'Chief Executive' and the 'chairman ex-officio of all the departments of the city,' and this power is one that the Council cannot change, since the act provides it can make ordinances only when not in conflict with its provisions. I quote from Section 5, subdivision (a), in reference to the Mayor, these words:

"'He shall have and exercise all powers and perform all duties provided or prescribed by law or the ordinances of the city not in conflict with the provisions of this act. He shall have general supervision and oversight over all departments and officers in the city. He shall be the Chief Executive officer and representative of the city, and shall have charge of and cause to be prepared and published all statements and reports required by law or ordinance or by resolution of the Council.'

"Again, in the amended act, without repealing the above provisions, but emphasizing them (Section 7, Page 33), it is said:

"'The Mayor shall be the Chief Executive officer of the city of Wilmington. He shall do and perform all duties provided or prescribed by law or by the ordinances of the city of Wilmington, not expressly delegated to any other person. He shall be ex-officio chairman of all departments of the city and shall have general supervision and oversight over the departments and officers of the city government and shall be the chief representative of the city and shall report to the Council any failure on the part of the officers or his or any other department to perform their duties. He may suspend any officer or employes elected by the Council, for failure to perform his or their duty, or for any other proper cause.'

"What do the terms 'Chief Executive,' chairman ex-officio,' 'supervision and oversight' mean, if all of the functions of city government are subdivided in five parts, each under the supreme control of a commissioner? If they carry no power to direct, to supervise, to oversee, to execute or to preside, why are they used in the charter? The layman, taking the common meaning of words and interpreting them by every-day common sense, would suppose they mean to vest in the Mayor as the 'Chief Executive' and chairman ex-officio—in fact, the head of each department—the power to direct the administration of the city's affairs. If this is not correct, then the office of Mayor is reduced to a mere clerical position, the only duty of which is for the incumbent to sit in the Mayor's office, at the City Hall, deprived of any authority and, therefore, not responsible for any government.

"I append the opinion of the city attorney. P. Q. MOORE,
"Mayor.

"November 5th, 1914."

City Attorney's Opinion.

The opinion of City Attorney Bryan, referred to in the foregoing, is as follows:

"Hon. P. Q. Moore, Mayor of City of Wilmington, N. C.

"Dear Sir:—You have asked me for my opinion as to whether or not you, as Mayor of the city, have the right to exercise any authority over the police department of the city of Wilmington, and have requested that I give you my opinion in writing.

"In compliance with this request, I desire to say that it is my opinion that you have a general supervisory power over the police department of the city of Wilmington, and for that matter, over all of the departments of the city government and over all of the officers of the city government; and this power, in my opinion, authorizes you to give instructions and orders to any officer connected with the city government.

"While the various departments of the city government have, by the Council, been divided between the members thereof by consent, each member having charge of and a general supervision over the department assigned to such member, this does not give to such member of the Council absolute and unconditional control over such department, nor does it in any way curtail or limit your authority and power over each department. But the authority over the respective departments under this arrangement is supposed to be exercised by you and the Councilman placed in charge thereof, in harmony with each other, if such is possible. The Councilman and yourself are both expected to recognize the rights of each other and should there arise a conflict of orders between you as Mayor and any Councilman, then a meeting of the Council should be called and such matter submitted to them for their decision as to which order is to be obeyed and the decision of the City Council in meeting assembled would be final under such circumstances; as under the charter, in my opinion, the City Council is vested with this power.

"To state the proposition in another form, I would say that both you, as mayor, and the Councilman in charge of any department, have the right to issue orders to the officers or employes of such department, and it is their duty to obey such orders; and in case of conflict of orders, the City Council settles the question in meeting as to which order or instruction shall be obeyed. But in the case where there is no conflict, it is the duty of the officer or employe to obey any order or instruction given by you, as well as any order or instruction given by the Councilman in charge of the department which such order may affect.

"Yours truly,
"E. K. BRYAN."

NEED ASSISTANCE FOR POOR

Charitable Organizations of Wilmington Issue Appeals for Help to Aid in Relief.

With the approach of winter and unsettled industrial conditions incident to the European war, bringing about a consequent lack of employment in many lines, those in charge of the organized charities in Wilmington are not viewing the outlook for the next few weeks with composure and appeals are already being made for a larger support.

The Associated Charities, the Salvation Army and Rev. J. S. Crowley, all of them agencies for charity work, in statements issued yesterday appeal to the Wilmington public for a more generous support and incidents are quoted to show that because of the lack of employment in many cases many people are likely to suffer unless the people respond more generously to calls for aid. Adjutant Mataxas, of the Salvation Army, is quoted as saying that the calls upon his branch of the organized charities in the city are larger than ever and he says that he will be glad to send the Army's collection wagon to any part of the city for old clothes, shoes, food, money or anything that will be useful in the emergency.

The Associated Charities also makes an especial appeal for funds just at this time and will be glad to receive contributions either by mail or at its office in the Court House.

Rev. J. S. Crowley, whose work is especially in the southern part of the city, is particularly interested in finding employment for a number of people who only ask an opportunity to work for what they get. Mr. Crowley has furnished the press with the following statement:

"Will not the employers, or those who hire men and women, come to the front? There are numbers of men and women who are out of work and are very much in need. If you have need of any kind of work to be done will you not kindly let me know of the fact and I will kindly assist you in securing a man or a woman.

"One family now, where there has been a great deal of sickness, both the husband and wife have had typhoid fever and lost their little girl, a most beautiful child, who was about nine years of age. These people have now a good opportunity offered them in the western part of the State, and they have no money to go on. If the man and his wife had work for a few weeks they could earn enough to keep them and their little boy in food and save enough to take them to Blantyre, N. C., where they have a good opening to make a good living. If this family can not get work to earn about $25, they will have to ask the good people of the city to help them. If you want to help in this good work, please let the Rev. J. S. Crowley, 508 South Third street, know. If you call by telephone, please call between 1 and 2 o'clock.

CONTROVERSY OVER LOTS.

Mr. C. G. Parker Seeks to Recover Money Paid Fidelity Co.

Suit was brought in Superior Court yesterday by Mr. C. G. Parker against the Fidelity Trust & Development Co., in which the plaintiff asks for the appointment of a receiver for the company, alleging that it is insolvent. The ground on which the request is based is that the plaintiff purchased from the defendant company two lots at Sunset Park and that subsequently he desired to stop payment and have returned to him the amount he had already paid on the lots. The total amount involved in the controversy is $450. K. C. Sidbury, Esq., represents the plaintiff.

Judge Allen issued an order for the defendants to appear before him at chambers in Burgaw on November 10th and show cause, if any, why the petition of the plaintiff should not be granted. C. D. Weeks Esq., attorney for the defendants, said that in the answer his clients will not only deny their insolvency but will also deny their indebtedness to the plaintiff. He said that the idea of such a strong company as the Fidelity with $250,000 of assets over and above everything it owes being insolvent is absurd. He declared that the effort of the plaintiff was simply an attempt to bluff his clients into paying him the money he had paid for the lots. He said that he expects to ask Judge Allen to hear the case in Wilmington.

Suit was also brought by Mr. Sidbury against the Fidelity Trust & Development Company for Augusta King, Owen W. King and J. J. King. This is a controversy about some lands at Wilmington Beach.

BEFORE THE RECORDER

Two Negroes in Jail on Charge of Stealing Money.

Son Darling, colored, who has figured in several cases in court and has served a term on the roads, and Norman Parker, also colored, were before the Recorder yesterday on a charge of stealing $37 from Ed Jefferson, colored. The cases were continued until November 9, and in default of bond in the sum of $200 each the negroes went to jail.

Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against John H. Davis, colored, charged with violating the speed law.

Rosa Thomas, colored, was ordered sent to the county farm for 30 days in default of the payment of a $5 fine and the costs for disorderly conduct.

ADDRESS TO YOUNG MEN.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells to Be Speaker at Y. M. C. A. Mass Meeting.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be the speaker at the men's mass meeting of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon at 4:45 o'clock. His subject will be "The Young Man for the Twentieth Century." While he will speak especially to young men, all the men of the city are cordialy invited to attend. Dr. Wells is a deep thinker and a strong speaker and his address will be well worth hearing.

There will be special music and a feature of the service will be the singing of gospel songs by the men.

WEDNESDAY IS COTTON DAY

Arrangements Being Made to Make This One of Most Popular Days of The Corn Show.

Next week will usher in Wilmington's chief attraction during the fall season, the big Corn Show and Agricultural Fair, in conjunction with the Industrial and Fine Art Exhibit of North Carolina Sorosis, to be held in the spacious quarters of the sixth floor of the Murchison National Bank building, this city. The programme of exercises for each day has been arranged and will be a most interesting and attractive one.

While the Fair will be formally opened on Tuesday and everything gotten in action promptly on time, Wednesday will no doubt be one of the most popular days of the week, as this day has been set apart as Cotton and Educational Day. On this day the ladies will wear their "made-of-cotton" dresses and coat suits, thus exemplifying the many purposes for which cotton can be used.

This will be something novel, interesting and attractive and will be worth any one's while to visit the show. At high noon there will be a parade of the students of the Wilmington High School together with the public school children of New Hanover. The procession will form at the City Hall at 12 o'clock noon, and will march down Third street to Orange, thence to Front and up Front street to the Murchison Bank building, where the children will sing "America." The different schools will march under their own banners, headed by the Hanover Concert Band. This will be one of the many attractive features of the fair and the only parade of the occasion.

Music in the afternoon and evening on this day will consist chiefly of old plantation and Southern songs as well as other familiar airs, coupling the past with the present and rehearsing the days of long ago with the piping times of peace on earth and good will toward men today. This will prove a rare treat, mingling the melodies of other days with the popular airs of the present—the blending of sweet recollections and hallowed memories of the past with the quick-step march of progress today. Don't miss it. Cotton still reigns as king and today sits upon his throne in the South.

The speakers for Wednesday are as follows:

12 M. Address by Mr. T. E. Browne, in charge of the Boys' Corn Club Work, Raleigh, subject: "Improved Farming as a Result of the Boys' Corn Clubs."

3 P. M.—Lecture by Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, in charge of the Girls' Canning Club Work, Raleigh, subject: "Home Canning."

The ladies of Sorosis are in a position to furnish dresses at a minimum cost, made from cotton material, manufactured by Wilmington mills. Those interested should call at the Sorosis club rooms on North Third street.

The committee in charge of the Corn Show and Agricultural Fair, Messrs. J. P. Herring, Z. W. Whitehead and L. B. Sasser, have decided to add three other prizes to the already extensive list, these being for pears. For the best exhibit a prize of $3 will be given; for the second best, $2; for the third best, $1.

POLICE UNIFORMS HERE.

A. David Company Delivering Suits, Overcoats and Caps Yesterday.

The new winter uniforms of the police department have arrived and were being delivered to officers and men of the force yesterday. The suits are of the same style, but of heavier goods, than the summer uniforms and the overcoats are of the heavy-service type as work last winter. Caps instead of helmets will be worn as the uniform for winter instead of helmets as are worn in spring, summer and fall. Overcoats for the motorcycle officers, five in number, and for the patrol wagon drivers are cut short with long roll collars as these officers would find the longer coats cumbersome and unsuitable for the service in which they are employed.

Fire Damages Dwelling.

Sparks from the chimney caused a small fire at the home of Sandy Williams, colored, No. 911 Queen street, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The damage was about $50. Firemen from the Central station responded to an alarm sent in from Box 52, and quickly extinguished the flames.

LINEN AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR.

The first meeting of the Linen Auxiliary of the James Walker Memorial Hospital since last spring was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the directors' room of the Wilmington Savings & Trust Company. The annual reports of the officers showed that the organization has been instrumental in being of much service to the hospital. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—Mrs. S. Solomon.
Secretary—Mrs. M. M. Caldwell.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. G. Hall.

Mrs. T. E. Cooper, the retiring president, presided over the meeting yesterday. It was decided to make an urgent appeal for an increase of members in view of the increasing obligations resting upon the organization. The auxiliary was organized ten years ago with ten members and now has 175 members. Its original purpose was simply to be an aid society but it now furnishes all the linen used at the hospital. It has as its aim the relief of the suffering and the members hope to have the assistance of other women in this noble work.

BARACA CLASS OF CALVARY ENTERTAINS ITS CO-WORKERS.

The Baraca class of the Calvary Baptist church entertained the Philathea, Junior Philathea, McDougall Memorial and Junior Baraca classes of the congregation last night at a delightful social, which was largely attended and most thoroughly enjoyed.

The instrumental music was furnished by the Whitlock Orchestra and the following programme was splendidly presented:

Overture by the Orchestra.
Philathea National Hymn.
"The Bride's First Visit to the Market"—Reading by Miss Sallie Oldham.
Vocal Solo by Mr. Percy Smith.
Selection by the orchestra.
"Down by the Rio Grande," reading by Mr. Montford.
Solo by Mr. Harris.
Male Quartette, Messrs. Wood, Crockett, Neuer and Harris.
Address by Rev. W. M. Craig.
Violin Solo by Mr. David Shore.
Baraca National Hymn.
Selection by the orchestra.

At the conclusion of the programme the company was invited to the Baraca room, which had been tastefully decorated with flowers and Baraca and Philathea colors. Here delightful refreshments were served.

Mr. C. Y. DeVaun, assisted by an able and faithful committee was largely responsible for such a delightful evening for all who attended.

WANTS NAMES OF SURVIVORS

Northern Man Anxious to Have Another Reunion of Fort Fisher Veterans—Letter.

With a view to having another reunion of the survivors of Fort Fisher, Mr. John W. Vrooman, of Herkimer, N. Y., has written a letter to Postmaster H. McL. Green, asking him to look up the names of one or more members of the Fort Fisher Survivors' Associations and forward them to him in order that he may communicate with these men.

The late Rev. James A. Smith, of Wilmington, who died a few months ago, was one of the prime movers in the organization of the association and took an active part in the reunions, one of which was held on the site of Fort Fisher and the last one being held in Utica, N. Y. Mr. Vrooman mentions in his letter Mr. R. W. Price, of this city, who died three or four years ago. Another survivor of the battle of Fort Fisher, who took a prominent part in the reunions was Mr. John West, of this city. There are a number of survivors of the battle in Wilmington and elsewhere in North Carolina, who will be interested in Mr. Vrooman's letter which follows:

"Dear Sir: We have a Fort Fisher Survivors' Association, with some officers located at Wilmington. Our last meeting was held in the city of Utica, N. Y., a few years since. After that time General Newton Martin Curtis and more recently Rev. James A. Smith departed this life. I do not know whether Mr. R. W. Price resides in your city or not. I would be greatly pleased if you would take the time and trouble to look up some one or more of the survivors so that I may get in touch with them to the end that we may hold another reunion.

"Thanking you in advance for the favor, and awaiting your reply I am,

"Very truly yours,
"JOHN W. VROOMAN."

Mr. Vrooman was on the United States batleship Vanderbilt which was engaged in the siege of Fort Fisher from December 25, 1864 to January 15, 1865. He enclosed with his letter to Postmaster Green several clippings, one of which contained the following:

One of the strong defenses of Fort Fisher and its fortifications, known as Battery Lamb or the Mound Battery, was surmounted by two Armstrong Rifled Cannon. These guns were very much in evidence during the engagements. One became disabled before the surrender, and I have been unable to ascertain what became of it. The other stands on the grounds of the United States Military Academy at West Point overlooking the Hudson river, where it was placed 44 years ago.

Colonel Hugh L. Scott, superintendent of the academy, furnishes the following memorandum of the gun at West Point. "History of the 150-Pdr. Armstrong Rifled Muzzle Loading Gun—Made by Sir W. G. Armstrong & Co., Newcastle, upon Tyne, England, in 1864. Weight of gun 15,737 pounds. Surrendered at Fort Fisher, January 15, 1865. Original carriage which was made of mahogany and teakwood had been so badly rotted away by 1908 that the same was taken down and replaced by a new carriage in the spring of 1909. The new carriage was made at West Point, New York, from timber cut on the reservations."

FUNERAL OF MR. EIDEN

Services from St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral Tomorrow Afternoon.

The funeral of Mr. John Joseph Eiden, who died at his home on the Castle Haynes road Friday morning, will be conducted from St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. Father Dennen. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

The deceased was a brother-in-law of Mr. J. H. Niggel, Jr., and the remains were removed to his residence, No. 411 North Fifth street, where they will remain until the hour of the funeral. Mrs. Anna Maria Eiden, mother of Mr. Eiden, and Mr. Anthony Eiden, a brother, are expected to arrive in Wilmington Sunday morning from Wilemette, Ill., to attend the funeral.

To Have Branch Office Here.

Announcement is made from the main Southern office of the Fertilizer Agencies Company in Savannah, Ga., of the opening of a branch office in Wilmington. The company is said to have a long string of offices from the Atlantic to the Pacific and on the west coast of South America. It is also said to have extensive mining concessions in South America and to import nearly half of the nitrates used annually in this country

EDWARD R. WEEKS COMPANY SCORED PRONOUNCED SUCCESS.

Overflowing Audience at Boys' Brigade Last Evening.

"Laugh, and the world laughs with you,
Weep, and you weep alone,
For this old earth must borrow its mirth,
It has sorrows enough of its own."

Clothed in its original meaning, the above simple lines would have no bearing on that which is in the mind of the writer. But, stripped of the thought which it carries and taken its brighter sense, there could be no more or better tribute than those lines clearly indicate that when coupled with the name of Edwin Weeks, and attested to by the overflowing audience which assembled at the Boys' Brigade armory last night, to be entertained by the Edward Weeks Company.

For there was laughter and tears though of joy and not of grief for none can sit under the spell of irresistible mirth which flows spontaneously from his every gesture and word and not do both. Even his face, beaming with that smile which betokens the light heart, his each appearance on the platform was the signal for a laugh, spontaneous, hearty and prolonged. His introduction of the two more than able assistants and himself was the starter for applause which never ceased during the one and a half short hours which fled by all too quickly. The company which is composed of Mrs. Edward Weeks, soprano; Miss Olive Woodward, violinist, and the husband of Mrs. Weeks, completed a trio of entertainers of which the Alkahest Bureau may well be proud.

The first number was the dainty little lullaby, 'Rocking in the Wind," charmingly rendered by Mrs. Weeks, followed by an equally dainty encore, "Mighty Lak a Rose." Mrs. Weeks has what may be properly termed a parlor soprano just suited to an auditorium which she was called upon to fill. Sweet, vibrant and handled with exquisite taste. Although most insistent applause followed this response for another song, she bowed her acknowledgements only. The second number was a little playlet entitled "The Old Squire" in which the sober side of the superb entertainers was delightfully shown to the audience. Mr. Weeks as the old Attorney seeking to extend not only legal but kind and fatherly advice to Mrs. Parsons (Mrs. Weeks) seeking her divorce, brought not only laughter but tears as his words of sympathy, advice and consolation poured forth in a voice filled with earnestness and pity.

For the next appearance of himself, Mr. Weeks gave impersonations of three celebrated Americans, prefacing with a little ditty satiring each. In turn, there appeared on the platform Col. W. J. Bryan, the Hon. Joe Cannon, and Col. Theodore Roosevelt, each one of whom was received with a round of applause, so complete was the transformation. Following this was the first appearance of Miss Woodward, whose violin seemed a thing of life as it gave to the audience its wonderful tone under the skilful handling of its fair artist. In technique Miss Woodward is as good as we have heard during the entire course of which this is the fifth. Her handling of the king of instruments was masterful and the continued applause rightfully bestowed.

The entertainment was concluded by a short comic opera in which Mr. Weeks was soloist in all four parts, chorus, ballet, and the biggest part of the orchestra. His change of voice to suit each was superbly done and called for the best of his talents and to which his whole being responded nobly. As entertainers, as a company that is calculated to make one forget his or her troubles and compel one to believe there is a bright side of life, whether you would think so or not, we most cheerfully and heartily commend the Edward Weeks Company.

THEATRICAL

Again has the home of popular priced movies reserved one of its biggest hits for the gay week-end, the biggest day in the week. It is a feature photoplay that is brand new, one of the biggest, brightest and best productions of the season. It is entitled "The Bride of Marblehead," and features those two Victor stars, Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby in the leading roles.

Fancy a fishermaid killing two men in one night. That's what the "Bride of Marblehead" did. Society would call it a double murder, but were there any extenuating circumstances in Nancy's case—would a jury of 12 men convict her? Neither was Nancy a bad girl, either. But, wait and see this mammoth Victor two-reel production, and then render your own verdict. Ten to one, she would be acquitted by a Bijou jury. Just wait and see, if you wouldn't free her on both of the charges. It's a rousing big story, something entirely new, and will excite your interest from the very beginning, and is in two full reels, too. True, the present play is a tragedy in every sense of the word—but you will enjoy it as a five, new and virile drama, with the scenes laid in a quaint New England village.

Then there's a notable comedy offering in a Nestor, "Cupid Pulls a Tooth," in which is featured that popular pair, Victoria Forde and Eddie Lyons.

Also there's a notable Keystone comedy, "A Brand New Hero," in which are featured some of the biggest mutual stars.

Four big reels of pictures at the Grand today, and what do you think? Included in the list will be the latest Hearst-Selig Pictorial Review, which deals nearly exclusively with the European war. These are the very first moving pictures of the incidents of the war, and were taken at great cost and have just been issued in this country. The martial spirit will roll high in these pictures and every one should see them. Scenes in Berlin are shown with clearness and vividness. Crowds before the palace of the Kaiser, the famous German artillery thundering through the streets of the capital of the Fatherland and other scenes of Berlin will be shown. Then will come scenes in London, showing the part the women are taking in the mighty conflict. Other scenes will follow, giving one a keen insight into things in Europe and furnishing a constant thrill. They are great pictures and should not be missed. There will be three big films besides this one, and the entire show will be served up in the Grand's usual faultless manner for 5 cents admission, afternoon and night.

Among the other films will be the wonderful Vitagraph success. "Hunger Knows No Law." It is a graphic, thrilling dramatic that will strike fire in every breast. A notable cast appears.

This is going to be a big day at the handsome Keith Vaudeville theatre, the Victoria. First of all the matinee this afternoon is going to be a rousing affair. Besides offering the superb show now speeding along at this handsome theatre one of those pretty toy terriers (a real live one), such as Mme. Busse uses in her big canine act to be seen at the Victoria, will be given away to some lucky lady or child, and announcement of this has stirred interest to a big degree, and indications are that the matinee this afternoon at the Victoria will be a jammed event, so far as the size of the audience goes. Of course, the show will be big and swell. In fact, the bill now running is one of the best ever staged at the Victoria. It is headed by the noted Italian grand opera singers, the Five Armanis, who are offering the folks of Wilmington the biggest and rarest feast of music ever offered in vaudeville or in any other way in this city. It is high class, brilliant grand operatic rendition, such as one pays big money to hear in the great cities. The act is mounted, too, with beautiful stage settings and pretty electrical effects.

Then there is Mme. Busse and her wonderful dogs. They are clever beyond description and the work of Little Pearl, the toy terrier, is remarkable.

I. O. O. F. MEETING NEXT WEEK

Grand Master W. F. Evans Will Attend Semi-Annual Gathering of Odd Fellows Here.

Grand Master W. F. Evans, of Greenville, N. C., head of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, will attend the semi-annual meeting of the lodges of the Wilmington district which will be held in the Odd Fellows Hall, corner Third and Princess streets, Wednesday afternoon and evening. There are 12 lodges in the district and representatives from each will be present at the meeting.

Mr. S. A. Matthews is chairman of the joint committee on arrangements composed of representatives from the four Wilmington lodges and Mr. L. W. Moore is secretary. They have arranged to give the visitors a most enjoyable time and the meeting is expected to be a profitable one from every standpoint.

The afternoon session will begin at 2:30 o'clock and this meeting will be devoted to the discussion of business matters. The night session will be held at 8 o'clock and will be a public meeting at which all the friends of Odd Fellows will be welcome. Grand Master Evans is expected to make an address on the work of the order and the results that it is accomplishing.

It is of interest to know that Grand Master Evans was one of the first children to be sent to the Odd Fellows' Orphan Home at Goldsboro, and that he received practically all his education at that institution. He is now an attorney of prominence at Greenville.

The lodges composing the district are: Hanover, Cape Fear, Orfon and Wilmington lodges in Wilmington; Atlantic at Southport; Columbus at Vineland; Boardman, Burgaw, Good Will at Wallace; Warsaw and Clinton.

TERM OF SUPERIOR COURT CLOSES TODAY.

Negro Fails to Recover Damages for Alleged Personal Injuries.

Superior Court for the trial of civil cases over which Judge Oliver H. Allen, of Kinston, has been presiding for the past two weeks with the exception of a two-day recess, will adjourn today. When a recess was taken last evening the court was engaged in the case of Dr. Thos. S. Burbank against the Baker Motor Vehicle Company in which the plaintiff is suing for $1,500. An automobile was purchased for $2,500 and it is alleged that the car did not come up to the representations.

The jury in the case of C. H. Nixon, colored, against the Wilmington Ice & Storage Company, did not award the plaintiff any damages for alleged personal injuries, but decided that he was entitled to recover $200 damages for injuries to his horse from which it was claimed the animal subsequently died.

The negro claimed to have been badly injured in an accident at Front and Oronge streets two years ago when an ice wagon ran into a dray which he was driving.

RECEIPTS SHOW GAIN.

Wilmington Postoffice Has Increase of business in October.

The receipts of the Wilmington postoffice for the month of October were $11,651.66, an increase of $169.35 over the previous month. The receipts for September were $11,412.31.

Postmaster Green says that the depression complained of by business men seems, to have had had no appreciable effect upon the business of the Wilmington office. He is expecting a larger business for the remainder of the year on account of the increased popularity of the parcel post feature. The Wilmington office handled a great number of packages of merchandising during the last Christmas holidays and this year this will be greatly enlarged.

More Libels on Vessels.

Deputy Clerk S. P. Collier of the Federal Court is kept busy these days writing out libels against vessels, now in port. Papers were issued yesterday to the Cape Fear Oil Company, as intervening libellants on three fishing vessels for supplies to the amount of $400 which that company claims is due them. The vessels libelled are the Portland, Nat Strong and Lawrence, all fishing vessels. There is another fishing vessel, Adroit, which is involved in the State courts. The total sum of money for which these vessels have been libelled is in the neighborhood of $20,000.

LIVERPOOL CABLES POSTED

For First Time Since Last July—Cotton Interest More Active and Optimistic.

New York, Nov. 6.—With the Liverpool cotton market reopened today for restricted trading in May-June deliveries, there was a larger attendance of members on the floor of the local exchange and for the first time since July, the Liverpool cables were posted on the regular board.

The increasing interest of the trade also was reflected in reports of a more active business on the local curb and December contracts traded rather freely at 760, later advancing to 762 with sellers asking 765. May-June in Liverpool fluctuated between 445 and 434d, closing at the latter figure, which represented an advance of nine English points from the minimum price fixed by the liquidating committee, and as basis for international liquidation.

The local committee reported rapid progress in the work of securing signatures to the agreements necessary to a consumation pro rata syndicate plan for taking over the old interest here. Reports from the South indicated continued steadiness in the interior spot markets, and local brokers reported that offerings were still light although it is believed there has been a slackening in demand as a result of higher war risks to North Sea ports. Port receipts today 52,188, export 17,428 bales, making 670,396 so far this season. United States port stocks 831,940.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON MARKET.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—The higher prices in Liverpool caused a sympathetic rise in prices in the local cotton market today. Spots were marked up ¼ to 7 5-16 for middling, and January contracts rose to 7.65, a new high level for the long trading. Offerings increased at the advance, however, and around the closing the price stood at 7.56 bid.

Spot cotton, firm. Sales on the spot, 520 bales; to arrive, 1,800.

COTTON SEED OIL MARKET.

New York, Nov. 6.—Cotton seed oil was strong and excited today, final prices showing a net advance of 38 to 49 points. There was active covering of shorts and buying by the west, inspired by the strength of holding products. Mills are withholding offers.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Situation has Shown Improvement During the Past Week—Causes and Factors Cited.

New York, Nov. 6.—The cotton situation has shown improvement during the past week. The Liverpool Exchange reopened today permitting the liquidation of old business and fresh buying orders. In the local market, the conference committee has been securing the signatures of members to various agreements necessary to consummation of the corporation-syndicate plan for taking over the old interest, and it is expected that as soon as a court order is secured permitting the sale of Fall contracts, estimated at 800,000 bales, to the proposed corporation at 9 cents a definite date will be fixed for opening the market here for unrestricted trading.

There has been renewal of straddle liquidation owing to the refusal of local longs to put the cotton in ballot under 7.51 for December. Further advices have been reported in Southern spot markets with prices fully a cent up from recent lows at some of the interior points, and with an increasing demand reflected in a freer movement.

Domestic mills are still said to be buying slowly or holding off at the advance, but exporters have paid the higher prices, and local brokers said today that they had found no evidences of increased selling pressure.

The frost reported over the belt toward the end of October does not appear to have caused any material change of sentiment as to the crop, and full ginning returns are expected from the census bureau on Monday.

WHEAT PRICES STRONG.

Result of Fear That Argentine Crop is Seriously Damaged.

Chicago, Nov. 6. — Notwithstanding that a sharp advance in ocean freight rates checked demand from exporters, wheat prices today showed considerable strength, the result largely of fear that the Argentine crop had suffered serious damage. There was a firm close at ½ to ⅝ to ¾ net advance. Other leading staples, too, finished higher, compared with last night. Corn, ⅝ to ¾ to ⅞; oats, ⅜ to ⅝ to ½, and provisions, 25 to 27.

IMPROVEMENT IS GENERAL

Two Developments of Distinct Significance Recorded in Financial Circles Yesterday.

New York, Nov. 6.—Two developments of district significance were recorded in the financial situation today. One was the rather free lending of six months money at 5 3-4 per cent. on mixed collateral, as against the long standing 6 per cent. rate, and the other was the sale of the New York city 6 per cent. three year notes, which were issued at par, at a price to yield only 4.08 per cent. Commercial paper was accepted for the shorter period at a fraction under 6 per cent.

In line with this general improvement, it was also learned that the stock exchange authorities soon will order the removal of certain restrictions which have operated against the purchase and sale of high class securities. It is not implied, however, that anything like regular operations will be permitted.

Dealings in listed and unlisted bonds and notes were said to have approximated $2,000,000 war value. Aside from the demand from city issues—the notes of several of the more prominent railway companys were in active request, at prices returning from 4 1-2 to 3 per cent. Listed stocks were higher in the unofficial market and in the curb a majority of the Standard Oil issues were quoted at prices above July 30 closing.

Foreign exchange was a negligible factor so far as London was concerned. Bills on that center were virtually unchanged from recent prices, but Paris cables and checks were sold at 5.10 1-2 and 5.11 1-4, respectively. Recurrent activity in exchange on Italy was seen in the quotations.

Bank clearings of the country show little betterment, except in the agricultural sections and certain manufacturing centers whose industries have benefited by sales of merchandise to the warring nations. Cotton continued to be one of the chief articles of export, but the sharp advance in marine war risks has had a marked tendency towards the curtailment of shipments to all foriegn points.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Will Carry a Budget of Favorable Trade News Today.

New York, Nov. 6.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Continued improvement in money market matters, increased interest in stocks and bonds at higher prices, heavy grain exports, sustained demand for war materials at remunerative prices, higher prices for cereals and live stock, somewhat better collections, excellent winter wheat conditions, and undeniable betterment in the Southern cotton situation, due to exports, furnish a budget of favorable news this week. On the other hand, there is considerable idleness, which reduces the purchasing power in many sections, and warm weather adversely affects retail trade while likewise restricting reorders.

Failures for the week in the United States were 317 compared with 241 last year in Canada against 42 last year.

Bank clearings were $2,553,599,000, a decrease of 25.8 per cent. from last year. Wheat exports were 7,312,284 bushels against 7,837,876 bushels a year ago.

OFFICIAL RETURNS FROM 32 COUNTIES

Fate of Amendments Seems as Uncertain as Ever.

LEADERS ARE HOPEFUL

Returns Now in Show Within 200 of an Even Break on Tax Amendment—Count of Board Required to Decide.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—Developments as to the constitutional amendments indicate more than ever that the fate of numbers of the 10 will not be definitely known until the State Board of Elections canvasses the returns. Official returns are in hand from 32 counties and these show within 200 of an even break in the vote on the tax amendment. Of course, numbers of the other amendments get considerably larger votes than the tax amendment.

Chairman J. W. Bailey and Secretary W. S. Wilson are still very hopeful for the adoption of all of the amendments and especially that numbers of the ten other than the tax amendment have been adopted.

Official returns received follow:

For tax amendment: Beaufort 750; Brunswick 673; Buncombe 1,600; Cabarrus 776; Carteret 725; Craven 1,564; Davis 246; Caswell 400; Durham 211; Forsyth 938; Haywood 1,000; Jackson 467; New Hanover 525; Onslow 256; Wilson 158.

Against tax amendment: Anson 623; Chatham 989; Cumberland 1,630; Franklin 184; Guilford 1,364; Hoke 200; Iredell 45; Johnston 1,500; Rowan 45; Sampson 1,821; Wake 1,800.

BRUNSWICK VOTES COUNTED

Gave 670 Majority for Amendments. Officers Badly Mixed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, Nov. 6.—The county board of canvassers have passed upon Tuesday's vote in Brunswick county, and the matter is settled as to who are to take the county offices. A quiet prevails, where a few hours ago there was the greatest political contest in number of votes cast, in the county's history, in notable contrast to the singular apathy which was seen just cross the Cape Fear, in New Hanover, where no one appeared to want to vote, or cared as to results.

Three important factors were ruling features in the contest here, all stumbling blocks to Democratic success, turning what should have been easy going into the hardest kind of hardscrabble, and leaving the party which went into power at the previous election with all the county offices, with but three, though these are good ones. But to the causes, as your correspondent has determined them, after talking with the leaders on both sides, as well as being on the ground in person. First, the Tenth senatorial dispute, in which Brunswick lost out; second, the stock law, a matter that was no issue, actually having been settled at the polls; third, the personal issue, not just to win for office, as much as for prestige, and to get "even," and this "getting even," politically, covers a lot of things.

The election figures do not tell all the story, except as to finals. The ballots, fresh from the box, show the animus of the voter, the last fling of the campaign. The scratched ballot, like a dagger thrust through the name, reveals the joy of the voter, and these were in evidence everywhere. This precinct, which gave an average of nearly 150 votes for the county Democratic ticket candidates, had 111 scratched ballots. The senatorial vote shows this, the congressional returns point as well to dissatisfied voters, and the Democrats tell me themselves, that they did the scratching, or refused to vote. The stock law was worked by the Republicans to the limit. It had been declared settled by both sides, previous to the real campaign, but once the fight started, it was stock law on all sides, and no declaration freed a candidate, if it was known he voted for it, when it came before the people months ago. And right here there are Democrats who tell me that the Republicans who won on this issue are going to see it forced on the county, through a Statewide stock law, which is certain to be brought up in the next General Assembly, in January and this over the head of the representative from Brunswick.

The personal entered into the contest for sheriff, more than any other office. It was at the boiling point day and night, and Sheriff Robinson, the Democratic winner, to succeed himself, said that he had lost eight pounds in weight, and was about out of breath at the finish, and now that he was elected, he was going to buy an automobile, and no doubt by this time has secured a car from some dealer in Wilmington, as he was headed that way when his vote was declared, giving him a majority of 148.

Your correspondent thinks it greatly to the credit of Brunswick county that it gave such a good majority vote favoring the constitutional amendments, for while in the excitement many failed to vote at all for them, yet 670 indicates the sentiment of this county in its favor, and his people do no vote hastily.

It is politically quiet, now, but there is plenty of action promised later on, not in contesting in election results, but in fresh matters.

C. L. S.

Democrat Has the Lead.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 6.—Unofficial tabulation of Wisconsin's vote for United States Senator today showed that of approximately 260,000 votes, Paul O. Husting, Democrat, had a lead of from 1,200 to 1,600 votes over Governor Francis E. McGovern, Republican. It seems certain that only the official canvass will be decisive.

Ninth California in Doubt.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—It probably will require the official count to determine the result of Tuesday's election in the ninth California congressional district. Late today Charles W. Bell, the Progressive incumbent, led Charles H. Randell, Democrat, by 193 votes. The count showed: Bell 16,724; Dandall 16,531.

Davis Election Disputed.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The election of J. McCan Davis, Republican, as congressman at large from Illinois, was disputed today by William E. Williams, Democratic candidate. Williams claimed late returns had given him a plurality.

400,000 MEALS A DAY NOW SUPPLIED

From Food Sent to Brussels by American Commission.

IS ONLY A BEGINNING

Plans Incomplete for Carrying on Similar Work Throughout That Part of Belgium Occupied by Germans.

London, Nov. 6.—Provisions sent to Brussels by the American commission for the relief of Belgium already are supplying 400,000 meals a day and plans are incomplete for carrying on similar work throughout that part of Belgium occupied by the Germans. The Dutch steamer Jan-Block will sail tonight with 2,000 tons of food and the steamer Tellus is expected to leave tomorrow with 1,400 tons of wheat.

That all emergencies are being forestalled is evident from a note issued by the central committee in Belgium saying the commission will have a delegate in each province to see that food shipments arrive intact, and who might be informed of any infraction by the German troops of guarantees given by Field Marshall Baron Von Der Goltz, military governor of the occupied portion of Belgium.

At a meeting of the Belgian central committee, Arnest Solvay, the Belgian manufacturer who is a member of this committee, thanking the American and Spanish ministers and the American commission for service rendered to Belgium, said that the position of Belgium was at the point of famine and, that fear of disaster was universal. Thanks to the Americans, he said, they had overcome at least for the time being, the terrible position in which the country had been placed.

Belgians Have Rudely Suffered.

Joseph Botogne, Belgian deputy and member of the Namur town council, and A. Jourens, deputy and member of the Liege town council, in a signed statement sent to the commission says:

"We have rudely suffered. After the atrocities and horrors of war we are now threatened by famine. The German armies have lived on our soil by requisitioning victuals. Our production of grain is hardly sufficient for a fifth of the consumption. The maritime route being closed for the import of grain, our country would fatally be famished in a very short time. Solely for Liege and its environs 1,500 bags of grain are necessary each day. At the moment of writing we hardly have enough for a few days.

"Without the generous assistance of the United States it would mean for us famine. We have suffering enough. We are convinced that you will sympathize with our undeserved miseries."

$80,000 000 RAISED IN NORTH FOR POOL

Expected the Other $20,000,000 Will be Subscribed.

Northern Bankers Have Subscribed Four-Fifths of Their Share of the Wade Cotton Fund—Only One Hitch.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Four-fifths of the share of Northern banks in the $135,000,000 cotton loan fund has been subscribed, and unless bankers hold back for fear that consummation of the loan plan will be held in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, the remainder soon will be forthcoming.

Secretary McAdoo announced today that $80,000,000 had been raised among Northern bankers, and that the remaining $20,000,000 to be subscribed in the North was in sight. At the same time it became known that certain bankers who had been counted on had become reluctant to enter the plan unless assured that the method by which the loan is being raised does not violate the Sherman law.

Such a fear was characterized by Mr. McAdoo as pure "buncombe." It is known, however, that the objection was considered by some authorities sufficiently serious to bring a request for an opinion from Attorney General Gregory as to the plan's legality. Distrust has come largely from New England.

It was reported tonight that when the fund first was discussed this question was raised, and that a representative of the reserve board conferred with the department of justice officials.

At that time it was the opinion of the officials consulted that there was no violation of the law, that the fund was to be raised voluntarily and that its purpose was not to restrain competition or raise prices, but to extend aid in making loans to producers.

That opinion, though not from the Attorney General, was sufficient for most of those asked to contribute. It failed, however, to convince the New Englanders. Their contributors, probably necessary to complete success of the plan, are understood to have been pledged contingent upon a favorable opinion by Attorney General Gregory himself.

Lawyers outside the Treasury Department are for the most part of the view that no violation of the Sherman law can result. It generally was predicted tonight that that view would be concurred in by Mr. Gregory, and that complete success of the play will be announced shortly.

Attorney General Gregory and Secretary McAdoo conferred for an hour tonight and later it was reported that Mr. Gregory had upheld his subordinates in the opinion that the loan plan could not be construed to be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act or any other law. No announcement was made, however, and although the attorney general carried a memorandum to the Treasury, it was said no written opinion had been prepared.

MORE THAN 100 STATE BANKS HAVE APPLIED.

For Admission Into the New Federal Banking System.

Washington, Nov. 6.—More than 100 state banking institutions throughout the United States have applied for admission to the new banking system.

The applicants include some large banks which Federal reserve board members feel will add materially to the strength of the system. A subcommittee of the board has under consideration regulations for their admission and is expected to be ready to report next week. The principal question for discussion is how such banks will be permitted to make loans on real estate.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 6.—Champ Clark, speaker of the House, filed his campaign expense account here today. It shows he spent $653 to be re-elected to Congress from the Ninth Missouri district.

New York, Nov. 6.—The board of governors of the Consolidated Stock Exchange of New York today decided to trade in American wheat. Deliveries will be nationwide and trading will begin Wednesday
